Dozen Sub-committees at Work Writing Tariff Schedules for Measure

HOOVER WILL SPEAK

President Will Deliver Special Message at Opening Session April 15

(United Press Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, March 8.—(UP)—The program for the extra session of congress beginning April 15 was being mapped out today by congressional leaders who have agreed the house should go to work immediately on the tariff bill while the senate works on the farm bill.

Following issuance of President Hoover's proclamation yesterday, Republican leaders from both sides of the capitol talked over their scheme for speeding up the president's legislative program and also for squeezing out other matters clamoring for attention. They do not believe they can confine the session to the two matters the president desires, but they intend to hold the program down as much as possible.

A dozen sub-committees of the house ways and means committee now are at work writing new tariff schedules for various phases of the bill. Their recommendations will be submitted to the full committee March 16 and the full committee will then start whipping the bill into shape. Committee members had not planned to have the bill ready for submission to the house until April 20, but when Mr. Hoover moved the convening date up five days they agreed with the house leaders to have the bill ready the opening day.

No work has yet been done on the farm bill and ordinarily the

20 CAUGHT IN RAIDS ENTER GUILTY PLEAS

Total Caught in County-wide Clean Up Reach 49 According to Police

WITH 35 persons arrested in the county-wide liquor raid of Wednesday already through or going through the courts on charges of liquor law violations, sheriff's officers today announced the arrest of three more asserted bootleggers, bringing the total to 49 taken in the general cleanup.

Those arrested during the night were Mrs. Blanche Addington, who has been in court before on liquor counts, Juan Barera, 37, of Anaheim and Clyde Walker, Santa Ana. Mrs. Addington was arrested at her home at Wintersburg, while Walker was picked up in Los Angeles by police officers there for the sheriff's office. He will be returned to the county jail here sometime today. It was reported, Fifteen of those rounded up in the raid have appeared before Justice Kenneth Morrison and pleaded guilty to possession of liquor, and these 15 have been fined. All were given $500 fines with the exception of two, who were fined $200 each.

Five have pleaded guilty to possession charges but have not been fined. Bernice Meeks will be sentenced tomorrow, as will Felipe Saldivar and Francisco Ruiz, who pleaded guilty to possession of liquor and a six month suspended sentence on a plea of guilty to possession and Consuelo Saldiva was given a suspended sentence.

Those fined $500 each were: Jesus Martinez, Robert Bunkley, John Moore, Arthur Marcado, Antonio Rodriguez, John J. Doyle, Thomas Gonzales, Jesus Esquivel, Larry Kadinger, John Goetz, Antonio Cordova, Jim Burns and Maria Garoy.

Jim Garrett, Huntington Beach, was arraigned yesterday and examination set for March 14. All others arraigned yesterday will be given preliminary examinations on March 12, next Tuesday, and bail in their cases was set at $1000. About half have made bail.

They are: Francisco Barron, Theodore Eitman, Carter Dean, O. C. Laney, George Gleason, M. C. Stanley, Harry Wood, Dorothy Mahon, Mary Bover, Hubert Meeks and Walter Meeks, Walter Meek's bail was set at $2,000, he having been in court before on a liquor transaction.

District attorney investigators and sheriff's officers were still equipped with 21 warrants of arrest of persons who so far have escaped in the raid. Search for these persons continue today.

F. W. Howard, chief criminal deputy sheriff, who was in charge of the sheriff's forces during the raid, said today that very little liquor was found during the actual raid. Although warrants were already out for the men and women wanted, search warrants also were issued and places were searched when the arrests were made.

Flyers Trying For Record On Endurance

BAY CITY, Mich., March 8.—(UP)—Eddie Stinson and his chief test pilot, Randolph C. Page, took off from frozen Saginaw bay at 10:41 this morning in a Stinson-Detroiter in an effort to set a new world's endurance flight record for planes not refueled in flight.

Their plane, the "Sally Sovereign," must remain in the air more than 67 hours to gain the record, but Stinson hopes to stay aloft 85 hours. The total weight of the plane, which carried 800 gallons of gasoline, was almost 9000 pounds.

JONES BILL IS RUINATION OF BOOTLEGGERS

Fear of New Law Causes Many Violators to Close Up Their Shops

(Copyright, 1929, by United Press)

NEW YORK, March 8.—(UP)—Bootleggers of the nation fear the drastic provisions of the new Jones law and liquor henceforth will be much higher in price and more difficult to obtain, a nationwide United Press survey indicated today.

Dealers in liquor who had been content to pay nominal fines and go on with their business are closing up shop in large numbers now that they face the Jones law penalty of imprisonment for five years or $10,000 fine. However, a hope exists among the fraternity that juries will be hesitant to convict under the new law and the first cases are being awaited with interest.

In Washington the price of alcohol has been increased from $1.25 to $2.00 a gallon, gin has gone from $2 to $5 for bottles containing a fifth of a quart; rye has doubled in value, being quoted at $6 a pint for the former $3 quality.

The United Press correspondent in Buffalo reported that speakeasy parlors were being met by gruff announcements from the bartenders:

"We're closing up. The Jones bill has us licked."

It was estimated that hundreds of saloons there had closed since Saturday. Many of them had been running wide open within a few blocks of the federal building and prohibition headquarters.

California bootleggers are adopting a "watchful waiting" attitude intending to keep their operations limited to a known and trusted clientele until the effects of the Jones law can be judged. In San Francisco a wariness on the part of bootleggers, with a probable rise in prices, was reported. Several liquor selling resorts had closed their doors. Rates on "Hollywood gin" and other liquors in the Los Angeles area had not been changed but it was said that if maximum penalties were inflicted in the first few weeks liquor law cases prices would be quadrupled overnight.

New York City seemed to be undisturbed by the difference noted between the only difference noted between bootleggers and their attorneys. The dealers want advice on the prospect of evading the harsh provisions of the law.

Police Commissioner Grover Whalen of New York City has said the metropolitan area is "liberal" in prohibition matters. He has been cleaning out a number of speakeasies as public nuisances but, unless a wave of Jones law convictions sets in, the new law is not expected to make a noticeable difference here immediately.

A significant development was the absence of all reference to the Jones law when the March federal grand jury was sworn in Brooklyn. Midwest cities reported bootleggers generally worried over the situation. Drives against them, with

Airplanes For Mexico On U. S. Embargo

WASHINGTON, March 8.—(UP)—The arms embargo against exportations into Mexico was extended today to include commercial airplanes, Secretary of State Kellogg announced.

Commercial planes were put on the embargo list when the document originally was drafted but were removed about a year ago. The embargo against exportation of planes to Mexico was restored to prevent rebels from obtaining planes in the United States.

Confession Is Necessary To Reconciliation

Evangelist's Mother Says Daughter Has Concealed Kidnaping Facts

LOS ANGELES, March 8.—(UP)—Aimee Semple McPherson still has a confession to make in connection with her kidnaping in 1926, a special dispatch to the Los Angeles Record, quoting Khavine Burbeck, secretary to the evangelist's mother, Mrs. Minnie Kennedy, said today.

"Until that confession is made a reconciliation is not possible between Mrs. McPherson and Mrs. Kennedy."

The present illness of Mrs. Kennedy, said to be near a nervous collapse in Kelso, Wash., may be traced to the kidnaping, resulting publicity and Mrs. Kennedy's loss of faith in her daughter, the secretary was quoted as having said.

Miss Burbeck, formerly a circus rider, has been with Mrs. Kennedy since the latter left Angelus temple after a dispute with Mrs. McPherson.

Mrs. Kennedy does not know where Mrs. McPherson was while she was away in 1926, Miss Burbeck said, according to the dispatch, "but she knows Mrs. McPherson has a confession to make."

Mrs. McPherson when asked about the charges passed them off lightly.

"I've told everything," she said. "And every word was the truth."

Eugene O'Neil To Marry N. Y. Actress

NEW YORK, March 8.—(UP)—Eugene O'Neil, American dramatist, will marry Carlotta Monterey, actress, as soon as his second wife, Mrs. Agnes Boulton O'Neil, from whom he had been separated for more than a year, obtains a divorce, he disclosed in a letter to a close friend here.

O'Neil is in Europe, where he returned recently after a trip through the Orient, marked by considerable secrecy and much mystery.

Miss Monterey is a native of California, born of a Danish father and French mother. She made her first New York appearance with Lou Tellegen in "Taking Chances" and later was leading woman in O'Neil's "The Hairy Ape."

GOVERNMENT SURRENDERS BORDER CITY

White Flag Raised and All Federal Leaders Taken Prisoners After Fight

STREETS ARE BLOODY

Wounded Soldiers Crawl Into Homes and Later Are Taken to Hospitals

EL PASO, Tex., March 8.—(UP)—Rebel troops gained control of Juarez, Mexico, revolution-ary key center, today, when federal troops raised the white flag of surrender. Firing which started at 5:30 a. m., ceased when an automobile filled with federal officers rode down the principal streets, flying a white flag shortly after 10 o'clock.

Federal troops were dispersed and General Miguel Valle, one of the rebel leaders, took charge of the city.

He said that four of his men had been killed in the battle and that several had been wounded.

Rebel forces arrested federal officers as rapidly as they could be rounded up, but announced that none would be executed.

Trails of blood on the streets bore witness to the fierce struggle that had gone before.

Wounded soldiers who had crawled into houses during the battle were rushed to hospitals three minutes after the fighting stopped. The dead were hurried away rapidly.

Riderless horses, many of them wounded, also were gathered up.

The main battle was over at 9 a. m., but there was scattering fire for more than an hour as the rebels sought out and dislodged machine gun and sniper nests.

Unofficial estimates of the number killed on both sides ranged from 50 to 250 and more although no accurate check could be made because of the rapidity with which the bodies were removed from the streets.

Reporters for the three El Paso English daily papers and the United Press had ringside seats for the fighting. Upon more than one occasion a bullet came perilously near the head of this news man and that.

COMPLICATIONS FEARED

WASHINGTON, March 8.—(UP)—American artillery with gun muzzles pointed toward Mexico, and American army planes flying over columns of Mexican rebel troops in Juarez opposite El Paso, Tex., stirred official Washington today with apprehensions of possible international complications.

Of immediate importance is the report of rebel sharpshooters bullets humming into Juarez with the accompanying danger to Americans who live across the border, that danger enhanced by dispatches from El Paso indicating General Matias Ramos, Federal commander, intends to resist rebel occupation of the city.

That the rebel leaders themselves are conscious of the danger of international complications which may result from promiscuous fighting in Ciudad Juarez was evidenced by General Valle who last night declared the federals "want to stay in Juarez so that if we are forced to use force to capture the city the U. S. troops will intervene."

NATURAL GAS FOR FRESNO IN AUGUST

FRESNO, March 8.—(UP)—Fresno will be the first major city to be served by the Kettleman hills natural gas, H. C. Ross, Pacific Gas and Electric company division manager here said today.

Fresno probably will get its first natural gas in August, he indicated. Construction of the pipe line from the west side already has started, he said. The Fresno district's share of the $13,000,000 expansion program of the company is $493,700, of which $350,000 will go to build the eight-inch transmission pipe line, Ross said.

FLAPPER FANNY SAYS

COOLIDGE FOUND TRAGEDY IN CAPITOL INSTEAD OF GLORY

NEW YORK, March 8.—(UP)—Calvin Coolidge, author, opened his mind and heart to the American people for the first time today and revealed that he found tragedy instead of glory in the White House.

In an article published by the Cosmopolitan Magazine Coolidge mentions the death of his son, Calvin, and the passing of the president's father as two severe burdens he was called upon to bear while directing a nation's destiny.

"I do not know why such a price was exacted for occupying the White House," he wrote.

The article, entitled "On Entering and Leaving the Presidency," is the first of a series which Coolidge will write for the Cosmopolitan. In a stark straightforward style, which is sparing with adjectives, the

LOCAL FAIR GIVEN SUPPORT OF STATE

The Orange county fair today had become a state district fair, entitled to state support. It was revealed with receipt of announcement here this afternoon that Gov. C. C. Young had appointed a board of directors for the thirty-second district agricultural association.

The directors named are H. A. Lake and Mrs. J. V. Kelsey, Garden Grove; S. W. Stanley, Tustin; George Kellogg, Yorba Linda; John Ragan, Orange; S. W. Miller, Fullerton; F. L. Purinton and Charles Van Wyk, Santa Ana. The board is as yet unconstituted except that Ted Craig is not included, his appointment not being possible because of the fact that he is a member of the assembly. The directors will serve for four years.

MAN KILLED WHEN CAR STRIKES POLE

SAN PEDRO, March 8.—(UP)—James Lombardi was killed instantly when an automobile in which he was riding overturned three times after striking a telephone pole here early today.

S. Bass, driver of the machine, was held on a charge of suspicion of manslaughter. Bass admitted he had been drinking, police said.

A pair of slippers found in the rear of the car led to the arrest of an unidentified woman when she returned bare-footed to the automobile two hours after the wreck.

Resolution Asks Arizona Recall Dam Commission

PHOENIX, Ariz., March 8.—(UP)—The state senate had under consideration today a resolution requesting Gov. John C. Phillips to recall the state's Colorado river commission from the tri-state Boulder dam conference in New Mexico.

The resolution, introduced by Sen. Andrew Beatty pointed out that Utah's ratification of the six-state pact made the presence of Arizona's representatives "unnecessary and ineffective."

J. G. QUICK HAS SEEN CITY IN TRAGEDY AND PROSPERITY

BY LOUISE STEPHENSON

In looking backwards over 50 golden years of their wedded life, Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Quick, of 1608 East Fourth street, who have watched Santa Ana grow from a village of 2000 souls to the thriving city of 35,000 population that it is today, can well afford to be proud of the part they have played in its development.

Wednesday, Mr. and Mrs. Quick were hosts at a brilliant reception celebrating the fiftieth anniversary of their marriage, which occurred in Cuba, Ill., where they lived for the eight years following their marriage.

Mr. and Mrs. Quick were unable to stand the rigorous eastern winters, and they decided to move to California. Making the trip on an uncomfortable, slow-moving train that in no way compared with the trains of today they arrived in Santa Ana during one of its most interesting—and most tragic—periods. It was the time of the great boom.

They well remember the excitement and hysteria of that time. There had been quite a turn of tourists to California. Boosters got the idea that all "back East" was coming to California. It looked as though the wildest dreams of real estate agents and Chamber of Commerce enthusiasts had come true.

Prices of land went sky-high. Subdivisions became a mania. New towns were laid out here, there and everywhere over Southern California, and lots were sold sight unseen and in every other way. Auction sales with big barbecues were the order of the day, whenever an excursion was run from Los Angeles to Santa Ana.

Interesting, indeed, are Mr. Quick's description of the things he saw. He speaks of the town of Fairview eight miles southwest of Santa Ana. A hotel was built at Hot Springs, and the country roundabout was staked into town lots, with a business section and residence districts provided for.

A railroad was built from Santa Ana to Fairview, and was actually in operation. Tustin had a big hotel, one that was torn down some 12 or 15 years ago after having stood idle for 20 or 25 years following the boom.

GAS DEALERS MEET TONIGHT

LOS ANGELES, March 8.—(UP)—Some 1100 members of the Independent Super-Station association will meet tonight to consider a plan by which they hope to terminate the present gasoline war, Claude McHutchens, secretary, announced.

Gasoline now is retailing at from 19 1-2 to 22 1-2 cents a gallon.

TWO POSITIONS ARE PROFFERED ROBT. STEWART

connection with so-called Continental Trading company scandal. When it was all over and Stewart had been acquitted of perjury and contempt by a jury, Rockefeller made a public demand upon Stewart that he resign.

Although he and his family owned only 15 per cent of the stock in Stewart's company, Rockefeller saw it as his duty to oust Stewart as "morally unfit" to head a concern from which the Rockefeller family were accepting dividends. Then began the campaign for proxies, the lining up of the big eastern shareholders who would allow Rockefeller to vote their stock against Stewart. The campaign met with typical Rockefeller success, and although John D. Jr. himself remained out of the country during the entire fight, he won with a majority of 2,555,327 shares of stock. The climax which was reached in the Whiting memorial center yesterday was not the financial battle of the century as it had been pictured. Instead it was an intensely human drama of big business. Stewart knew he was beaten before he even started to the meeting. Perhaps he had known it for weeks. Before leaving his office in Chicago he had prepared and duplicated a statement expressing his regret at leaving the company. C. V. Julian, one of his aids, carried the statement in a brief case ready to give it out when the votes were counted. As he mounted the platform to take charge of the meeting as chairman of the board of directors, the colonel betrayed not a trace of what must have been in his mind. In his hour of defeat he was complete master of himself and carried off his part with a broad smile for everyone.

$100,000 FIRE DAMAGE

HOLLYWOOD, March 8.—(UP)—Damage in excess of $100,000 was done by fire which swept the display room and the garage of the Howard Motor Car company here early today. Fifty automobiles were destroyed in the blaze. Police reserves were called to control the crowd which gathered to watch the blaze.

PREPARE PLANS FOR APRIL 15 EXTRA SESSION

Congress would await Mr. Hoover's special message at the opening of the session in order to frame the bill along the lines he desires. The leaders are, however, generally informed concerning Mr. Hoover's views as set forth in his campaign speeches of the agriculture department in framing the bill. They could therefore send the farm bill to the house about the time the house sends the tariff bill to the senate. The senate leaders hope to have the farm bill ready at the outset in order they may have something to do during the three weeks or more the house will spend on the tariff bill. If they do not have the farm bill prepared, various other measures will be seeking prior position. Senator Vandenberg of Michigan already has served notice he will reintroduce a combined census and reapportionment bill the first day while advocates of repeal of the national origins provision of the immigration act also are planning to get up their resolution to delay its application another year. Mr. Hoover favors such a delay but senate leaders are against him on the issue.

numerous arrests, have been made in St. Louis, Kansas City and other districts. In Florida and other sections of the south there was a pulling in of lines on the part of bootleggers and an apparent intention to proceed cautiously until the effects of the law can be seen. John F. Vivian, federal prohibition administrator for Colorado, Wyoming and New Mexico, praised the Jones law and said it would help greatly "to curb activities" of operators in his district.

REBELS TAKE JUAREZ FROM GOVERNMENT

Horn Mosely, commanding the first cavalry division at El Paso, the sending of armored cars to the international bridge, and the appearance of heavy artillery guns trained on Juarez, mounted on railway cars of the Santa Fe railroad directly opposite the Mexican city reported in United Press dispatches sent high officials of the government here scurrying into conference last night.

'T WAS ALL BIG MISTAKE; HE DIDN'T WANT DIVORCE

It wasn't a divorce case after all. When Louis Zaepfel, Orange baker, testified in Superior Judge H. G. Ames' court yesterday that his wife's activities around their home prevented him from sleeping, he was not seeking a decree of separation, it was revealed today.

Zaepfel was seeking to recover property in Orange, deeded to his wife, Bertha Zaepfel, shortly after their marriage in 1925. The purpose of his testimony was to show that his wife's consideration for his comfort decreased after she became owner of the home they lived in.

He claimed that he had deeded the property to her on her promise to cancel a $1500 mortgage, which she held on another piece of his property. She had refused to keep her alleged promise, he said. So he desired to regain control of the home.

Judge Ames restored the property to Zaepfel with the understanding that he will satisfy the $1500 mortgage. Testimony of both Zaepfel and his wife showed that she had gained control of the home, that she held a mortgage against his other property and that she had drawn out their joint bank account. Mrs. Zaepfel said she divided this account, keeping one-half and applying the other half to her husband's alleged debts to her. She did not consult him before taking this action, she admitted.

Zaepfel claimed that, after these developments, Mrs. Zaepfel made life so intolerable for him that he was forced to live elsewhere. Mrs. Zaepfel stated that she never had agreed to cancel the mortgage and asserted that she always had tried to make her husband happy. Trouble began, she said, when she discovered that he had not washed his hands before coming to lunch. When she spoke to him about his alleged neglect, he became angry, she said.

Zaepfel, who succeeded in regaining his property, was represented by James L. Davis and Sharpless Walker, Santa Ana attorneys. Mrs. Zaepfel was represented by H. L. Dearing, of Orange.

"After he was gone someone sent us a letter he had written about the same time to a young man who had congratulated him on being the first boy in the land. To this he replied that he had done nothing and so did not merit the title, which should go to 'some boy who had distinguished himself through his own actions.'"

"We do not know what might have happened to him under other circumstances, but if I had not been president he would not have raised a blister on his toe, which resulted in blood poisoning, playing tennis in the south grounds."

"In his suffering he was asking me to make him well. I could not. When he went, the power and glory of the presidency went with him."

"The ways of providence are often beyond our understanding. It seemed to me that the world had need of the work that it was probably he could do."

Then Coolidge tells how his father lay dying in the Vermont home-land while the pressure of presidential duties made it impossible for him to go to his bedside.

"It costs a lot to be president," he wrote.

Coolidge reveals that even when he was elected governor of Massachusetts for a second term in 1919 and was mentioned as a presidential possibility he still felt he was not qualified to fill the office of chief executive. He goes on to describe the night of August 2, 1923 when "I was awakened by my father coming up the stairs calling my name. I noticed that his voice trembled."

The scene in which Coolidge was sworn in as president is described in detail.

Ray Long, editor of Cosmopolitan, told how Coolidge wrote the article on his recent trip to Florida. Only the stenographer who typed the manuscript after Coolidge had written it in longhand, knew that Coolidge had completed the article, Long said.

FARM BUREAU IS ADVISED OF MODIFICATION

Modification of Arizona quarantine regulations to allow issuance of permits for exporting Southern California baby chicks to that state was announced today by W. C. Childers, chairman of the poultry departments of the Orange County Farm Bureau and of the seven southern counties.

Childers, who has been negotiating for some time with the state veterinarian of Arizona regarding the quarantine, received a telegram from that official today, stating that quarantine regulations have been modified to conform with regulations of the bureau of animal industry of the U. S. department of agriculture. Permits will be granted for interstate shipment of baby chicks, the telegram said.

The action of Arizona will affect shipments of approximately 1,000,000 baby chicks annually from the Southland to Arizona. In Orange county the main shippers are Childers and C. H. Peters, of Cypress. The quarantine has been in effect for approximately one month and was brought about by the appearance in Los Angeles county of the foot and mouth disease.

PROBATION IS GIVEN WOMAN ON DOPE COUNT

Mrs. Anna Stambaugh, 111 French street, was granted probation for two years today by Superior Judge James L. Allen, after she had pleaded guilty to a charge of forging a Santa Ana doctor's name to prescriptions in order to secure morphine.

Mrs. Stambaugh was questioned on the witness stand by her attorney, L. F. Coburn, and by Deputy District Attorney Sam L. Collins. She declared that she had conquered the morphine habit and that she would not use it in the future. She admitted that she had served time in Los Angeles for using morphine. If the habit threatened to return, she said, she would report at once to the county hospital for treatment.

R. H. Dundas, narcotic agent with the state board of pharmacy, told the court he favored granting of probation. With R. H. Sandon, investigator for the district attorney's office, Dundas arrested Mrs. Stambaugh several weeks ago. She was released on her own recognizance.

PLEADS GUILTY TO DRINK CHARGE BUT IGNORANCE OF LIQUOR BRINGS PROBATION

Although he pleaded guilty to a charge of driving while intoxicated, admitting that he had had three drinks before he became involved in an automobile accident in Garden Grove, Noah Bush today revealed a deep ignorance regarding various kinds of liquor when he was questioned in Superior Judge James L. Allen's court.

After questioning by his attorney, Buel Wood, Bush was quizzed by Deputy District Attorney Sam L. Collins. "What kind of liquor was it that you drank?" asked Collins.

"I don't know," replied Bush. "Was it wine?" persisted Collins.

"Well, I wouldn't say that it was," replied Bush.

After naming several other kinds of liquor, Collins finally gained the information that it might have been whiskey that Bush had consumed.

"You're an ex-service man aren't you?" continued Collins. Bush admitted that he was. "Did you serve overseas?" Again Bush replied in the affirmative.

"And yet you are not familiar with the different kinds of liquor?"

"No, I'm not," replied Bush. "That's all," said Collins.

After Collins had finished his examination, the court displayed an interest in Bush's ignorance regarding liquor. He discovered that Bush had not taken a drink, until recently, since saloons were closed. The court discovered that Bush had served in the navy during the war.

"Were you sent to France?" Judge Allen asked. Bush replied in the negative.

The court granted probation for two years.

DAVID SMILEY AT MEETING OF SERVICE FRAT

Establishment of a new chapter house for Delta chapter of Delta Phi Epsilon, the National Professional Foreign Service fraternity, was celebrated this week at a dinner meeting in Los Angeles, where the guest list included David Smiley, 703 West Washington avenue, of the Santa Ana Business Men's association.

Dinner was served in the Student Union building at the University of Southern California, after which the meeting adjourned to the chapter house on West Thirty-sixth street, whose founding was the most recent accomplishment of the fraternity, according to Smiley. There were nearly half a hundred members present, including Dr. Rufus von Klein Smid, sponsor of the chapter house; J. Eugene Harley, professor of international relations at the university, and other distinguished men, all members of Delta chapter.

Dr. von Klein Smid and Professor Harley were on the program, the former with a brief talk congratulating the fraternity on the establishment of the building and the latter discussing "International Education." In his talk, Professor Harley told of investigations into the subject while in Europe attending the Geneva peace conference, at which time he also investigated the existing relations between European powers and countries. His findings are to be incorporated in a book which is to be brought out at an early date.

The new chapter house is designed to meet the needs not only of members of the fraternity, but of the 700 foreign students enrolled in the University of Southern California. This is the largest enrollment of foreign students in the United States with but one exception. The chapter house also will be called into service for the entertainment of visiting athletes from every country of the globe when the Olympic games are held in Los Angeles in 1932.

International House day will be observed in two weeks with a joint program by the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce and the Foreign Trade club, at which time Smiley will be present, representing this district.

It's not always the motorist who gets the little red ticket.

Judge J. F. Talbot gave the pedestrian a suspended sentence, explaining that he was a foreigner and did not understand the signals.

For a soapy, sudsy bath—use Melo

Like to have plenty of suds when you're bathing? Then don't bathe in hard water—city water as it comes from the faucet. Soap combines with the hard water, and forms a dirty scum around the edge of the tub. That's scum, and that's certainly not pleasant. Hard water can be made soft. Just put Melo in the water and you have a very remarkable cleaner, with or without soap. Then watch the soap lather! Then watch the suds come! Then watch the scum go! J. G. QUICK HAS SEEN CITY IN TRAGEDY AND PROSPERITY DURING HIS 42 YEARS HERE

Men sold property for fabulous prices, and reinvested in other land at still higher money. Anybody could sell anything, and the buyer could sell again in the snap of a finger.

Then, over night, the boom "busted."

Those who had bought property at high prices still held the land lost heavily. Land would not sell at any price. The subdivisions everywhere showed lines of white stakes, and they remained that way for years and years. Much of the subdivision property went back into acreage. Places like the town of St. James, near Olive, and the town of Carlton, near Yorba Linda, were completely wiped out and deserted and remained only on plats in the recorder's office.

Every real estate agent in the city, with the exception of Quick, suddenly discovered that he had business in another part of the state.

Within a few weeks there were 250 vacant houses in Santa Ana where it had been impossible to find one a short time before. Those who had purchased property on the installment plan stopped their payments and allowed it to return to the original owners.

Quick faced what he thought would be ruin when he discovered that he had acres and acres of property in the eastern part of the city on his hands. There was no sale for it—he doubted whether he could even give it away.

And then to complete the destruction of the dream of future greatness came the drought. For five years it continued.

Disease Attacks Grapes
And then disease attacked the grape vines, the chief source of wealth in this section, and everyone thought that the end of the little town was approaching, for even vegetables and meat had to be shipped in. Nothing grew, nothing prospered.

But during all of this trying time Quick stayed on, still the only real estate man in Santa Ana.

Finally rains came and some enterprising rancher discovered that walnuts and oranges would take the place of the grapes and once again the town looked up.

Easterners were attracted by the equable climate by the reports of money to be made in the walnut and citrus industries and by the friendliness of the people. Each newcomer met Quick, for it was through him that every house was rented or purchased, and he was responsible for every real estate deal. It was during this second period of prosperity that Mr. and Mrs. Quick made many friends, many of whom were present Wednesday at their golden wedding celebration.

Soon after Quick's arrival he had a citizen's part in the division of Los Angeles county. Led by James McFadden and William H. Spurgeon, citizens of this section decided that what is now Orange county should be made into a separate county. A bill providing for separation had to be put through the state legislature meeting at Sacramento. A fund was raised and McFadden and Spurgeon went to Sacramento, where eventually they succeeded in getting the bill passed.

Fight Over County Seat

When it came to selecting a county seat, as Quick recalls, there was considerable of a controversy. Orange was allowed to have the county named after it, Santa Anas were strongly of the opinion that the county seat should be in Santa Ana, while Anaheim folk were just as fully convinced that the county seat should be in Anaheim. When it came to a vote, Santa Ana mustered the greater strength. Quick has seen Santa Ana come up from a country village with dirt streets and wooden sidewalks to what it is today. In summer, the streets were terribly dusty; in winter they were often filled with splashy mud. Hitching racks along the streets and on vacant lots provided places for the tying of horses.

During the boom, street car tracks were laid from Santa Ana to Tustin and from Santa Ana to Orange. Soon after the boom with, but the line between Santa Ana and Orange was operated until it was taken over by the Pacific Electric. The old "dummy" that used to carry passengers after the use of mules was given up always was quite a curiosity.

In the early history of Santa Ana there were a number of saloons here as was true of all western cities in those days. Many Santa Anas realized the damage these saloons did in attracting the wrong class of people to the town and it was in the nineties that the first concerted steps to remove them were taken.

Rallies were held. The most prominent and eloquent speakers spoke for prohibition and in this fight Quick also played a prominent part. Quick, E. E. Keech, Elmer Burns, Edward Lee and Lou Hickox organized themselves into a quintet and sang at the rallies. Mr. Keech was the spokesman. Back and forth, north and south, throughout the entire county the group of "drys" went, preaching prohibition in stirring terms until finally the question was put to vote and the saloons were driven out of Santa Ana.

"Wets" Fight Back

The joy in the victory lasted but a few months, for the "wets" started a fight for another election. In order to fight the "wets" to better advantage the "drys" under the leadership of James McFadden, organized The Register. Through the medium of the press they successfully combatted the saloon evil and in a short time, after winning their battle for the second time, the founders of the paper sold it and today the newspaper has developed into the largest daily in Orange county.

Quick was a stockholder in the original paper. It was along about 1904 that agitation for bringing the Pacific Electric, which was then putting in its system in and around Los Angeles, was started. Quick had a part in that undertaking, and, of course, remembers the getting of the right of way, the building of the line and the time when the electric cars first reached Santa Ana.

Quick recalls, too, some of the ups and downs of the farmers of the county. There was a time when to the southwest of the city there was a great celery producing section. During the '90s, the citrus growers were almost wiped out by the San Jose scale, just as during the '80s the vineyards were wiped out by the Anaheim disease. The discovery of spray and fumigation as a method of fighting citrus pests saved the orchards from utter ruin.

Sugar Beet Industry

It was something like twenty years ago that the sugar beet industry of the county got a great impetus. Previous to that time, the Los Alamitos factory had been in operation. Then came the Southern California factory to Santa Ana, followed by a factory at Anaheim, another at Huntington Beach, and then a second one in Santa Ana. Gradually the beet industry has been crowded out by orchards and by the lima bean.

The San Joaquin ranch, devoted almost entirely to sheep and cattle growing when Mr. Quick arrived here, has undergone many changes in development. First hay and grain, then lima and blackeye beans, and now a good many hundred acres have gone into beach subdivisions and many thousands into orange and walnut orchards.

In 1905 Santa Ana was still a small town, although it already was on the road to sure, sound growth. Quick smiled as he spoke of the city even at the recent date "when there was a 10-acre orange ranch west of Lacy street and north of Fourth street. And another large orchard where the depots are now."

About this time people were for the first time realizing the wis-

The little peaches stopped their dance. Then Clowzy said, "Now watch me dance. I'm pretty good at stepping, as you'll very shortly see. Why, I can two-step, waltz and hop, and jig a bit before I stop. Just ask the other Tinsies. They will all agree with me."

So, all the peaches gathered round while Clowzy hopped up to the ground. "Here goes," he shouted loudly. "I will do a high-kick fling." He jumped and kicked his feet in the air. And landed safe and sound, and square in front of all the peaches who thought it a clever thing.

"Go on, and do some more," cried one. "We think that this is heaps of fun." But Clowzy said, "Oh, not today. I've had enough for now." One peach then said, "Say, why don't you go roaming like you always do. If you seek interesting spots, you'll find them, I'll allow."

"You're right," cried Clowzy.

"Come, let's go. Why, I feel certain that I know that we will not be sorry that we set out for some thrills. We can't see very far from here, but no doubt something nice is near, and we are bound to find it if we hike across the hills."

They bid the peaches all goodbye, and Clowzy calmly stopped to sigh. Said he, "We hate to leave you 'cause you've been real nice to us. But, after all, we can't stop here. It's up to us to seek new cheer. As long as we must move on, there's no use to start a fuss."

Not far away the Tinsies found a stretch of very rocky ground. "I wish that we could see a cave," said Clowzy with a grin. And then he added, "Goodness me, that is the very thing I see. The big black hole's a cave door, and I'm going to walk right in."

(Clowzy is lost in the next story.)

Late News From Orange County Communities

Laguna Beach Chamber Plans Membership Campaign

DRIVE STARTS WITH DINNER COMING WEEK

LAGUNA BEACH, March 8.—Plans for a membership drive which it is hoped will restore the prestige of the chamber of commerce and bring it to something like its old time standing, have been made. The date is set for March 18, with contesting teams to bring in every possible recruit.

The campaign for members has been under consideration for about two months, and as a preliminary to it the dues have been reduced to $5 a year and membership participation permitted.

Mayor Frank B. Champlin will head one team and George E. Thompson the other. A supper at the Hazel cafe Thursday evening, March 15, is given by W. T. Lambert and J. J. Power as hosts to get plans ready for the campaign.

Champlin has as his helpers Frank W. Cuprien, A. B. Marshall, Charles Jester, William Bernard, Joseph S. Thurston, J. J. Power. On Thompson's team are P. C. Pemberton, Dr. B. B. Mason, W. T. Lambert, B. C. Mackay, F. W. Shields and L. F. Walden. The membership campaign is under the direction of J. J. Power.

Directors of the chamber have decided to attend the formal opening of the Casa del Camino cafe March 15. Meetings of the chamber are held on the first and third Fridays of each month instead of every week as formerly.

TREES PLANTED

YORBA LINDA, March 8.—Burbank day in Yorba Linda was celebrated by the planting of several avocado trees in the park by the members of the civics committee of the Yorba Linda Woman's club, of which Mrs. W. Van Cleave is chairman. The trees were furnished by Mr. Van Cleave.

Macleod And Mesan Will Boost Bill

NEWPORT BEACH, March 8.—At the request of Sam H. Cohn, deputy state superintendent of education, and at the suggestion of Sen. N. T. Edwards and Assemblyman Ted Craig, G. C. Macleod, secretary of the Newport Harbor Chamber of Commerce, and L. P. Anderson, Costa Mesa attorney, will leave Monday for Sacramento to urge the passage of senate bill No. 5, allowing a vote on the proposal to form a harbor high school district.

Senator Edwards has written Macleod stating that the committee on education will meet Thursday of next week. Edwards and Craig are both strong for both the Newport and Placentia school bills which were unanimously endorsed by the Associated Chambers of Commerce of Orange county last week at Costa Mesa, and against the so called "county unit" school bill, which was unanimously opposed by the Associated. This bill would nullify the others if it becomes law, it is said.

S. A JUDGE TALKS IN GARDEN GROVE

GARDEN GROVE, March 8.—John F. Talbot, city police judge of Santa Ana, gave the principal talk at the school of religious education held in the Methodist Episcopal church Wednesday night. His talk on the subject of "Law and Observance" was given at the close of the dinner hour. Mr. Talbot is a brother-in-law of W. W. Wieman, vice principal of the Garden Grove high school.

The dinner was served by sections one and two of the Ladies' Aid society to 135 persons. After the dinner and speaking the members adjourned to their study classes.

FOREIGN BORN WORK TOLD IN ROTARY TALK

ORANGE, March 8.—Miss Drucilla Mackay, head of the Americanization work in the Fullerton district, was the speaker at the regular meeting of the Rotary club in the American Legion clubhouse yesterday.

Miss Mackay told of the growth and progress of Americanization work in the northern part of the county since 1920, when a citrus association of La Habra erected 60 cottages for the Mexican workers in packing houses.

The association found, Miss Mackay said, that new homes did not solve the problem of Americanizing the workers and so a teacher was engaged to instruct them. The experiment proved to be so successful that La Habra's example was followed by Placentia and Fullerton, she declared. There are now four teachers in the district who devote all of their time to teaching the Mexican men and women American ways. Both men and women are taught to read and write English and the women are taught to sew, cook, how to care for their families.

A violin solo was played by Sol Gonzales, of Santa Ana. Miss Ruth Frothingham played his accompaniment and also the accompaniment for a vocal solo by Emriquetta Armendarez, of Santa Ana.

Stanley Mansur was chairman of the day and Mrs. R. C. Patton, head of the Americanization work in Orange, was a guest of the club.

Osterman, Jahrus Seek Re-Election To Tustin Board

TUSTIN, March 8.—Those whose terms expire on the high school board and who are up for re-election March 29 are John Osterman, of El Toro, and Joseph R. Jahrus, of Laguna Beach. So far no other candidates from these two districts have filed papers.

On the grammar school board, W. I. Ferrey's term has expired and he has declared himself not a candidate for re-election.

Fullerton Favors Two Thirds Vote For Harbor Bill

FULLERTON, March 8.—That the Fullerton Chamber of Commerce directors are opposed to the Orange county harbor unless it carries a two-thirds majority clause, was announced today following a unanimous vote at the regular meeting of the chamber yesterday noon at McFarland's cafe.

Directors declared that the two-thirds majority was an essential protection to the taxpayers and that a 51 per cent majority would permit the passage of a bond issue by the vote of non taxpayers.

ENFORCEMENT OF BOOZE LAW MESA SUBJECT

COSTA MESA, March 8.—Mrs. Hattie C. Young, state recording secretary of the W. C. T. U., was the speaker at the Wednesday night prayer meeting in the community church. Her subject was "Thumbs Down."

Facts and figures were given in regard to prohibition. Mrs. Young remarked that "prohibition was not the cause of crime, but it revealed crime."

"Law enforcement is the one big issue, and this should be an issue that every mother and father should uphold, and start with themselves," she declared.

Mrs. Young lauded President Hoover for his straightforward message on prohibition.

Following the speaker of the evening, the Rev. L. R. Bayard remarked that "good people, bad people, and different people make up the world, but we of the United States should cease to be indifferent to law enforcement."

Mrs. C. C. Kesel, Mrs. E. A. Randall, Mrs. D. H. Hulbert, Mrs. D. Gibson, and the Misses Sarah and Lida Conant of the mesa attended the County Institute of the W. C. T. U. held at Balboa Wednesday.

SEWER SYSTEM FINANCING UP NEXT MONDAY

SAN CLEMENTE, March 8.—The question of financing the construction of the proposed new sewer system of San Clemente will be decided at the special meeting of the city council Monday afternoon. At the Wednesday night session, W. A. Ayer, city engineer, and in charge of the preliminary survey of the system, submitted contracts he had made for securing money to carry on the work. These contracts are in the hands of Charles D. Swanner, city attorney.

On Monday the council will contract fishing privileges to the 1200-foot municipal pier to David and Sons, Balboa. This company will supply boats for fishing, fishing tackle and live bait. One fishing boat will be available for Spanish village citizens at all times.

Bids for vitrified clay and cement pipe for the proposed sewer were read. The council will make its selection at the next regular session of the body, March 20.

The gift of Ole Hanson, founder and builder of San Clemente, of $800 worth of trees and shrubbery, was accepted. The trees will be planted immediately by the city park and street department.

Jerry DeVine, new police officer, was voted a salary of $250 a month. He will work a month on trial, then six months on probation before becoming a regular member of the San Clemente force.

Earl H. Moore, who has purchased the garbage contract from the council would enter into a contract with him at the Monday meeting. Violette announces that he will devote himself to the transfer and wood business.

Magnesia Best for Your Indigestion

Warns Against Doping Stomach With Artificial Digestants

Most people who suffer, either occasionally or chronically from gas, sourness and indigestion, have now discontinued disagreeable diets, patent foods and the use of harmful drugs, stomach tonics, medicines and artificial digestants, and instead, follow the advice so often given in these columns, take a teaspoonful or four tablets of Bisurated Magnesia in a little water after meals with the result that their stomach no longer troubles them, they are able to eat as they please and they enjoy much better health. Those who use Bisurated Magnesia never dread the approach of meal time because they know this wonderful anti-acid and food corrective, which can be obtained from any good drug store, will instantly neutralize the stomach acidity, sweeten the stomach, prevent food fermentation, and make digestion easy. Try this plan yourself, but be certain to get Bisurated Magnesia especially prepared for stomach use.—Adv.

PORTLAND, HOLLYWOOD TANGLE TOMORROW

Saint Track Team Ready For Meet With Glendale

'FINDS' TO BE WATCHED WITH KEEN INTEREST

Without the esteemed services of Frank Wyckoff, Russ Slocum and other phenomenal athletes who placed the banner of the "fastest growing city" in other years but with some dangerous new point-gatherers, nevertheless, Glendale high school's track squad will come here tomorrow afternoon for a Coast Preparatory league dual meet against Coach "Tex" Oliver's Saints. The first race, the half-mile, will be run off at 2:30 o'clock.

Although Santa Ana will depend for victory largely on its "Four Horsemen"—Captain Tommy Cone, Al Rebohn, Tom Donahue and Norman Paul—keen interest will be displayed in several young athletes who have received less attention but whose rapid improvement has gladdened the heart of Coach Oliver.

Chief among these is Elwood Lindley, a basketball player, who in one week has improved four inches in the high jump and is now clearing 5 feet, 8 inches with promise of better things. Doyle Gilbert, a "dark horse" who went almost 21 feet in the interclass broad jump also will be watched closely for good broad jumpers seem to be rare in the league this year. Paul Jacques, who is good for 5 feet, 6 inches, is another high jumper sure to do better as the season progresses. Lindley, Gilbert and Jacques all have at least one more year of eligibility and their development will be a source of satisfaction to their tutor.

Little is known of Glendale's strength except in the sprints where Coach Normal Hayhurst thinks he has another Wyckoff in the making in Elder, who recently reeled off a 10 fad 100 by unofficial timing. Glendale did not have a dual meet last week so there is no means by which its strength may be compared to that of the local group.

Santa Ana, however, is looking to Captain Cone to win the 880, Rebohn to take the two hurdle races, Paul to capture the broad jump, possibly the shot put and place in the 220 and for Donahue to grab the mile.

The Saint quarter-milers, who did not come up to expectations at Long Beach, are counted on for better performances. Jim Danerl and Lloyd Nuzum are in better shape now and figure to place unless the Dynamiters have a phenomenon or two hidden away.

Santa Ana's sprinters will be "Red" Cooke, Bob Blair, Bob Beaver, Ralph Gordon, George Berry and possibly Carl Schenberger, Paul and Danerl. The Saint weight lifters will be Alfred Poulsen, Glenn Hartmann, Kenneth Manderscheid, Paul and Danerl.

LOS ANGELES, March 8.—Just what Coach Howard Jones will do to the left side of his Trojan line were the chief causes of speculation today as the University of Southern California spring football practice went into full swing at Bovard field.

For the right side of his line, Jones has two-year veterans in Clark Galloway at guard, Frank Anthony at tackle and Francis Tappan at end, but the left side of his 1928 forward wall, Lowry McCaslin at end, All-American Jesse Hibbs at tackle and Charles Eoren at guard, will be lost by graduation, and it is in this part of the team that the greatest changes will be seen when the Trojan eleven lines up for the opening game of the year next September 23 with U. C. L. A.

Already the Southern California coach has made one change that fans anticipate will be permanent when he moved Captain Nate Barragar from offensive center to left, or running guard. On defense Barragar goes back to center with George Dye, who is replacing him offensively in this position, moving to left guard. Dye is a 236-pound man-mountain who played a year for Alabama university and then transferred to U. S. C. Because of the transfer rule he was ineligible for the Trojan varsity last fall, but will be eligible next September.

For the left tackle job vacated by Hibbs, Coach Jones has three vets in Cecil Hoff, Jesse Shaw and Bill Seltz, with a pair of good tackles from the 1928 frosh coming up in big Bob Hall and Tom Mason. For the left end position are Harvey Durkee of the varsity squad and Howard Joslin and Tony Jurich of the frosh. "Dutch" Wilcox, a leading contender for this position, is now playing third base on the ball team and will offer no chance for comparison with the other boys doing spring work.

For the backfield and the right side of his line, Jones has plenty of material and it is that left side that is interesting fans at present. The Trojan mentor has shifted his boys so much during the first few days of spring work that indications fail to indicate and grid fans are still looking for signs that will portend the future.

FULLERTON VARSITY FACES LONG BEACH

FULLERTON, March 8.—Two Fullerton basketball teams will enter their second playoffs this week as a result of victories in their playoffs in the first round.

The Fullerton high school varsity will meet Long Beach Poly high, champions of the Coast league, at Huntington Park tonight. Although this is not really a Southern California championship game, it means virtually the same thing as these teams have scored victories over most of the best quintets in the south.

Fullerton's Class B squad meets Santa Ana, also champs of the Coast league, in the Tustin gymnasium Saturday night.

S.A.-FULLERTON CLASH DECIDES 'B' HOOP TITLE

By winning the deciding tussle from Fullerton Saturday night, the Santa Ana high school Class B basketball team can clinch the mythical Southern California championship. The big game will be played in the Tustin gymnasium beginning at 8 o'clock.

Coach Bill Cook's middleweights were slated to meet Woodrow Wilson high this week but Fullerton defeated the Bears Tuesday at Fullerton, 27 to 9. This puts the Indians and Saints into the top division.

Santa Ana holds decisions over both Fullerton and Woodrow Wilson but the Bears also whipped the Saints in a practice brush. The Polyites downed Fullerton, 28 to 17, in the middle of the season and figure to do it again. There was some doubt as to where the game was to be played, with Tustin, Huntington Beach and Huntington Park all getting consideration. Tustin finally got the nod and a record crowd is expected to jam the spacious gymnasium.

Bill Erbe, stellar running guard for the locals, is still out of suit, and although his leg is healing, he hasn't practiced for more than a week. His absence will leave the defensive duties up to Captain Jimmy Hall and Joe McChesney. Fullerton possesses two exceptionally fast forwards and the two local guards will have a real assignment.

Asa Herren and Elwood Lindley are the big scoring threats for the Saints. Lindley, lanky center, has an uncanny knack of hitting the hoop and usually breaks over 10 or 12 points. Herren is not far behind and always gives Lindley plenty of competition. Russell ("Red") Sullivan, the boy who beat Long Beach for the league title with a last minute foul throw, also will be a main factor in the local machine. "Red" is a splendid all-around floor man.

Saturday's contest will climax a highly successful season. The "Bees" have been defeated in conference competition but once, and that after two hectic extra quarters against Glendale. Near the end of the season, San Diego, Long Beach and the Saints were tied at the top of the league. Coach Cook's chorts swamped the Hilltoppers in the last game, 28 to 20, and then nosed out Long Beach in a playoff game, 21 to 20.

TOO MUCH BUSINESS
Ira Thomas, who is on Connie Mack's advisory staff, didn't go south with the Athletics this year because of business worries. He will scout for the Macks again this year.

FIVE 'BEST PERFORMANCES' IN TRACK ACCREDITED TO SAINTS

Five of the best performances registered in Coast Preparatory league track and field circles so far this season are accredited to Santa Ana high school athletes.

Taking the Santa Ana-Long Beach, South Pasadena-Alhambra and San Diego-Pasadena dual meets for comparison it is discovered that exceptional performances are not lacking despite the earliness of the campaign.

Captain Tommy Cone's record in the 880 of 2:3.6 is by far the best made in the league. Tom Donahue's 4:46 mile in three seconds better than the time turned in by Dowers, of San Diego. Al Rebohn's marks in the high and low hurdles and Norman Paul's lunge of 21 feet, 10 1/2 inches in the broad jump also are better than other performances.

Jimmy Wilson, the San Diego transfer from Boston, Mass., is the leading sprinter to date. Wilson won the state interscholastic meet in Massachusetts last year and was an easy winner of the 100 and 220 against Pasadena last Saturday.

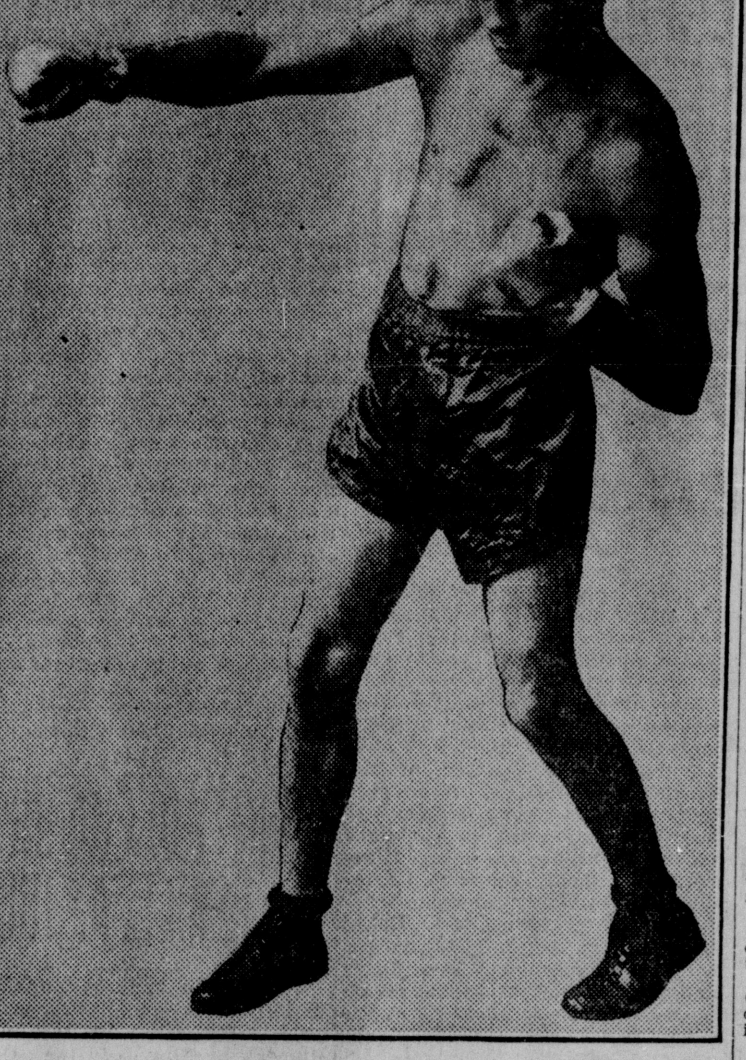

The league always has boasted some fine weight men in the past but nobody has appeared yet who looks ripe for first places in the All-Southern. The same situation seems to exist in the high jump.

Below is a summary of "best performances" this year. Glendale's athletes are not included because the Dynamiters drew a bye in the dual meet schedule last week and will not see action until Saturday on the Santa Ana track.

100-yard dash—Wilson (San Diego) 10 sec.; Spurr (South Pasadena) 10 5-10 sec.
220-yard dash—Wilson (San Diego) 23 sec.; Franklin (Long Beach) 23 3-10 sec.
440-yard dash—Dowell (Long Beach) 1:00 sec.; Warburton (San Diego) 53.4 sec.
880-yard run—Cone (Santa Ana) 2 min. 3.6 sec.; Jepson (Pasadena) 2 min. 8 sec.
1 mile—Donahue (Santa Ana) 4 min. 46.7 sec.; Dowers (San Diego) 4 min. 49 sec.
120-yard high hurdles—Rebohn (Santa Ana) 16.2 sec.; Dix (South Pasadena) 17.4 sec.
220-yard low hurdles—Rebohn (Santa Ana) 26.7 sec.; Ortiz (San Diego) 27 sec.
Relay—San Diego, 1 min. 34.2 sec.
Pole vault—Miller (San Diego) 12 feet, 6 inches; Epperson (Long Beach) 12 feet.
Broad jump—Paul (Santa Ana) 21 feet, 10 1/2 inches; Stephens (Pasadena) 21 feet, 5 inches.
Shot put—Bridges (Long Beach) 45 feet, 9 inches; Paul (Santa Ana) 45 feet, 2 inches.
Discus throw—Grider (South Pasadena) 110 feet, 9 inches; Sada (San Diego) 109 feet, 6 inches.
High jump—Gabler (Long Beach) 5 feet, 7 inches; Dewar (South Pasadena) and Dobbins (San Diego) 5 feet, 6 1/2 inches.

'THE ILLINOIS THUNDERBOLT'

This is Frank Russell, so-called "Illinois Thunderbolt," who boxes Milford Burgland, of San Bernardino, in a six-round feature event at the Orange County Athletic club tonight.

HUERRA, HOBSON TOP BOXING CARD TONIGHT; NIELSON SUBS

Welterweights, those young fellows who wage fistic warfare anywhere between the poundage of 145 and 155, will hold down the fort at the Orange County Athletic club tonight. The main event, semi-windup and feature preliminary offerings introduce boxers who range in this division. For the most part the principals are foreigners to the homespun fanciers and if variety counts for anything the strangers should attract a generous patronage especially after the whirlwind "bargain bill" that was supplied a week ago.

The main eventers are Aurelio Huerra, a Mexican who counter-punched Fred Tegniovitz into defeat here last Friday, and Jesse Hobson, a newcomer but one who, nevertheless, comes to the local arena with a good many recommendations. Hobson, one of the million boxers in the land said to bear the o. k. of Jack Dempsey, is supposed to be tuning up for a main event at Wilmington with Bobby La Salle.

Harry Johnson, the "Black Cyclone," will battle K. O. Nielson in the semi-final. Nielson was secured today as a substitute for Jackie Stewart who was cut up so badly in a match at Wilmington Wednesday that he had to cancel his Santa Ana engagement.

Listed as the "Illinois Thunderbolt," Frank Russell goes against Milford Burgland in the feature event. Russell may steal the show, according to those who have seen him in the gymnasium. He is a real one-two puncher and can take it, too, the wise ones say. Burgland is a topnotcher at San Bernardino and other inland clubs but this will be his first start in Santa Ana.

The three last bouts of the evening will be six-rounders, the others all four. Tommy Smith and Ed Lozano, 138 pounders, are down for the third spot. Herman Placencia, who has shown here before, boxes Johnny Gonzales in the second bout. They are 128 pounders. Reed Peterson and Frank Schutich, middleweights, open the show.

JULIA LATHROP SCHOOL BREAKS EVEN IN MEET

Julia Lathrop junior high school of Santa Ana and Fremont school of Anaheim divided honors in their two track meets yesterday afternoon, the Spartans winning the intermediate competition, 36 to 13, but losing the senior affair, 31-12 to 17-1-2.

Coach Ferris Scott did not use any of his ninth grade athletes and even two of his star eighth graders were ineligible and took a lot of punch out of the senior team.

In the senior meet it was a case of too much Mene, a young Anaheim husky who won three first places and a third. The Lathrop intermediates had things their own way with Johnnie Shinto winning every event on the program besides running a fast lap on the relay team.

Callahan Rivers Box At Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD, March 8.—Mushy Callahan will fight Arizona Joe Rivers in a 10-round main event bout at the Hollywood Legion card tonight.

Tribe Player's Uncle Is Revolt Leader

SAN CLEMENTE, March 8.—The Almadas are a fighting family.

While Louie is battling for a regular berth in the Seattle outfield as the Indians train here, his uncle, Fausto Topeto, governor of Sonora, is one of the leaders of the revolutionary forces fighting the Federals for control of Mexico.

Another uncle, Ricardo Topeto, a brother of the Sonora governor is a general in the Federal army under Provisional President Portes Gil. Louie's father, Baldomero Almadra, is a commercial attache of the Mexican government in Los Angeles.

M'CREIDIE PUTS TRIBE THROUGH TRAINING WORK

SAN CLEMENTE, March 8.—Ernie Johnson, Tribe manager, who has been in bed since the game in San Diego last Sunday, got up yesterday but did not don a uniform. He left Walter McCredie, Detroit and Seattle scout, to run the ball club and Walt put the boys through a hard drill, working them three hours at hitting practice.

Johnson announces that McCredie will take the Indians to Bakersfield where three games are scheduled over the week end. While Walt is doing his stuff Johnson will watch the rookies in games here with Oakland and Hollywood.

Bill Klepper, Tribe president, is still in Los Angeles. He was supposed to leave for Seattle Tuesday but is trying to make a deal with Los Angeles for Wally Hood, hard hitting outfielder. No word has been received here of the consummation of the transaction.

Clarence Heatherly, third baseman from the Western league who has been in Los Angeles for three days being treated for a sore arm, was in uniform today.

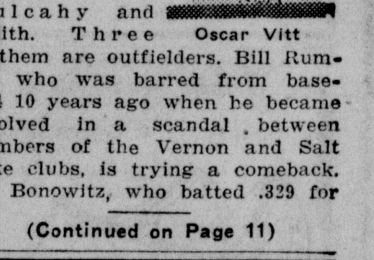

VITT PRESENTS COLORFUL CREW TO FAIR PARK

Happy-go-lucky Oscar Vitt, burn eye and all, and his Hollywood Sheiks will intrude on the private property of the Portland Beavers here tomorrow afternoon in the first "big shot" of the baseball season at the Orange County Fair grounds. This will be one of the three local appearances of the Hollywood squad, the others being scheduled for March 16 and 17.

Even with his one eye, the other one being temporarily behind a blind after an operation for cataract, the hustling, peppery, colorful Vitt can see his movieland athlete as a strong pennant contending combination. Hollywood helped to revive baseball interest in Los Angeles last summer, playing to packed stands almost every Sunday. The Stars finished next to the Seals in the first half of the split season by five games and were only three games out of first place when the second half closed.

Vitt lost two high class men when the New York Yanks took Pitcher Gordon Rhodes and the White Sox drafted Second Sacker Johnny Kerr. Pitcher Phil Mulcahy was sold to Little Rock and Outfielder Elmer Smith, who trained here with Portland last March, was peddled to Louisville at his own request.

Seven experienced newcomers and a host of promising recruits (Vitt always has been able to develop a rookie or two) will seek to make up for the loss of M'ssrs. Rhodes, Kerr, Mulcahy and Smith. Three Oscar Vitt of them are outfielders. Bill Rumber, who was barred from baseball 10 years ago when he became involved in a scandal, between members of the Vernon and Salt Lake clubs, is trying a comeback. Joe Bonowitz, who batted .339 for

Fort Worth and Bill Albert who built up an average of .328 at Springfield, are two new flycatchers. Tony Boroja, Cleo Carlyle and Walter Reh were with the club last term.

The pitching staff is headed by Frank Shellenback, veteran spitball expert. Walter Kinney, Bill Murphy, Dick McCabe, Hank Hulvey and "Buzz" Wetzel are other holdover gunners. Roy Chesterfield, who comes from the Yankees via Syracuse; "Lefty" Johns, from Fort Worth, and Joe Marty, a right hander who was with Asheville, are the new ones.

"Mickey" Heath is back at first base for the Stars and Dud Lee, a major league fielding shortstop, is a cinch to patrol the territory between second and third. Herb Kibbe, who batted .314 at Fort Worth; Mike Maloney, a rookie from Fresno; "Red" Rollings, who played 50 games for the Boston Red Sox, and Leo Ostenberg and Tom Holley, young fellows, are battling for the other two infield positions.

Sam Agnew and Johnny Bassler, slow but smart old timers, will do most of the Hollywood catching. Playing its third exhibition game here yesterday, Portland defeated Jess Orendorf's National Baseball School of Santa Monica, 4 to 0. The Beavers made all their runs in the sixth inning when McCoy, the visitors' big pitcher, lost control, got himself in trouble by walking Jimmy Cronin and Gale Staley and then had Jim Keesey single Cronin home and Art Jahn, the big outfielder who was with the Giants and the Phillies last season, while a home run over right field wall that scored three more. It was quite a lousy drive for a right hand hitter.

Fred Ortmann and Jack Knight, regulars, did the Beaver derelicting Ortmann working the first five and Knight finishing up. The Students assembled only four hits off their combined delivery and had only one chance to score, in the ninth.

ON THE TRAIL OF BIG LEAGUERS

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla.—Dan Howley, who manages the St. Louis Browns, declared today that the club would be at least 30 per cent stronger than in 1928. After watching his club in its eighth straight workout of the present training season, Howley said he expected to finish in the first division. The recruits picked up by the Browns since last season will furnish the necessary reserve strength, Dan declared.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex.—With John J. McGraw concentrating upon the problem of who is to play second base for the New York Giants during the coming season, Melvin Ott stepped in yesterday and produced the sensation of the training camp season. Ott, a youngster of 20 summers, hit the first homer of the preparatory period, and all but won himself a permanent place in the Giants' outfield.

CLEARWATER, Fla.—The signing of Douglas (Buzz) McWeeney for $12,000 for the coming season was the big news around the camp of the Brooklyn Robins today. "Dazzy" Vance left the Dodgers' camp, but is expected to sign before the 1929 season opens.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla.—Mark Koenig, who is fighting for a place in the Yankee infield for the coming season, was the batting hero a foul tip, while Andy Reese and Jimmy Welsh were laid up with that bane of all baseball athletes—the charley horse.

VOLLEYBALL LEAGUE TO BE FORMED HERE

Big league volleyball is promised at the Y. M. C. A. here tomorrow evening, when the heavy-hitting team from San Diego comes to try conclusions with the locals. In order to accommodate the visitors, the games will start at 6 o'clock, and will last for about two hours. The public is invited. There is no charge for admission.

Plans are under way for a Santa Ana volleyball league of business men at the Y. M. C. A. to play a series of contests during the next few weeks for fun and exercise. Dr. H. A. Styler, chairman of the physical department committee, has the project in hand with his committee, and expects within a few days to have the captains chosen and the teams selected for the schedule. The plan is to have a league of six teams, made up from the members of the regular gymnasium classes, evenly divided as to skill, and then to put them through a full round of play to see who can score the most points.

SENIOR GIRLS WIN CROWN IN HOCKEY

The seniors at the Santa Ana high school acquired undisputed possession of the interclass girls' hockey championship by trouncing the sophomores, 6 to 0 on Poly field yesterday.

The juniors gave the upper-classmen a close battle but in the next to last game, the graduates nosed out their rivals, 2 to 0, in a thrilling match. The juniors also beat the sophs, 3 to 0, in a game Monday.

In the senior-sophomore fray, the seniors were held to one goal in the first period but rallied and made four in the next two stanzas. The end of the affair was closely contested but the sophs couldn't hit the cage. Miss Alverda West, hockey coach, soon will name her annual first and second teams for Girls' Athletic association awards.

Seidel Market Is Baseball Winner

Frank Nickey, grand poo-bah of the Seidel market night baseball team, was prouder than a bird dog today. Nickey picked up a bunch of ball players last night and took them to Costa Mesa where they pounded out a 10 to 7 victory over the Costa Mesans.

"Red" Thiery pitched for the Meat-Cutters and "Ben" Wilcox caught. Wilbur and Remus Fippes, "Red" Sullivan, Lindsey, Scott, E. Thiery and Rockwell were others on the Santa Ana team.

MISSIONARY TO CHINA VISITS ORANGE HOME

ORANGE, March 8. — After 11 years spent as a missionary teacher in the Hamilton School for Girls at Hinghaw, China, Miss Ellen Suffer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Suffer, 656 East Collins avenue, returned to her home here yesterday.

Hinghaw is an island city in a southern province of China. Foochow is the sea port by which the country is entered and until a short time ago the only way to the interior was by sedan chair, Miss Suffer says. The missionary herself traveled two and a half days by this ancient method on her journey here, rain making the new roads impassable for a motor vehicle.

New roads are a part of the new methods that are coming into use in China, Miss Suffer says and they are destined to play a great part in acquainting the people of one district with those of the other districts, a thing heretofore impossible. Roads are made with a hard clay foundation and a surface of red sand, she says. Miss Suffer paid $10 in gold for her journey in a sedan chair from Hinghaw to the sea coast.

The older women, she says, are acting as a stabilizing element for the feminist movement. They are conservative while the younger are inclined to be radical.

The wife of the man second in military power in China was educated in the Hamilton school, while he himself was educated in the nearby Guthrie School for Boys, Miss Suffer states. Both these young people have a broad attitude toward the many problems that confront them, she says.

The custom of throwing away girl babies away is not practiced in the province where she was stationed, the missionary says, though many of the families she knew sold their girl babies to other people, as wives for their boys. The little girls are raised by the families who buy them as it is cheaper than to buy them when they young than when they are older.

In spite of the customs that have prevailed for thousands of years, young people now are rebelling against such marriages. They fall in love as they do anywhere else, and are insisting on marrying the man or woman of their choice, she says.

Girls in the Hamilton school dress in trousers and coats, or in skirts and coats. Styles change much as they do here, Miss Suffer declares, and a sleeve that is fashionable one year is decidedly out of date the next year. Some years the sleeves are narrow and tight at the cuff, the next year they may be shorter with flowing lines.

MAY NAMED TO COLLIER'S POST ON G. O. P. BODY

Appointment of W. C. May to the position on the Orange county Republican central committee left vacant by the death of the late E. B. Collier was announced late Thursday by T. B. Talbert, chairman of the committee, Collier, who was the first city manager of Santa Ana, was a valued member of the committee and regret at his death was voiced in a resolution by the Republican body.

May, who will fill the position on the committee, was manager of Republican campaign headquarters here during the pre-election period and was active in making Orange county a banner section in the proportion of Hoover votes it rolled up on November 6. At the same time it was announced today that Charles H. Chapman, supervisor from the first district, had been selected to fill the place on the board of directors of the Southwest Building and Loan association, formerly filled by Collier.

ENGINEERS TO COMPLETE DAM SURVEYS SOON

Results of investigations on the Santa Ana river and other Orange county streams, with preliminary plans for flood control and water conservation, probably will be placed informally before the board of supervisors and citizens' advisory committee during the month of April, according to an announcement today by Paul Bailey, flood control engineer for this district.

Bailey's announcement was made following the receipt of information by him to the effect that the board of nationally known consulting engineers, which has co-operated with him in the final stages of his work, will return to Santa Ana on March 18 to complete its work. The board consists of A. J. Wiley, Boise, Ia., chairman; Charles H. Paul, Dayton, O., and F. C. Herrmann, San Francisco. The trio was here several weeks ago and went over the tentative plans with Bailey.

It is estimated that their final work with him will occupy two or three weeks, after which Bailey's report will be placed before the supervisors and advisory committee for informal consideration. Preliminary plans call for a reservoir near Prado of 180,000 acre feet capacity, estimated to cost in the neighborhood of $10,000,000. Such a reservoir would act both as a conservation and flood control project.

PRESBYTERIAN BUDGET GOAL IS SET AT $38,000

With a budget of $38,000 as their goal, members of the First Presbyterian church are preparing to observe Sunday as "Church Loyalty day," with the intention of securing pledges to cover the entire cost of operating the church for the coming year.

Both morning and evening services on Sunday will have special programs and efforts have been made to assure an attendance that will crowd the church at both services.

It is the custom of the church to cover its entire budget in an annual "every member" canvass. Sunday will be the opening day of this canvass and it is the expectation of the committee in charge, of which W. S. Suddaby is chairman, that the greater part of the congregation will make their pledges on Sunday. Those who are unable to respond on Sunday will be visited during the next few days.

A dinner meeting has been called for Monday night, at which time a group of workers will assemble to study the results of Sunday's work and plan for further visitation.

Of the $38,000 involved in the budget for the year, which begins April 1, about one-half is for local church expenses and the balance is for extension work, both in this country and in other lands.

PHONE CABLE 10 MORE ARE INSTALLATION ARRESTED ON COSTS $94,000 PARKING COUNT

Work is under way along the highway between Anaheim and Santa Ana which will result in the laying of conduit for telephone cable involving an expenditure of $94,000, according to E. S. Morrow, district manager of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company.

The project, which was begun during the first week in February, calls for the laying of 72,000 feet of conduit, which will be used to shelter new telephone cable on the Los Angeles-Santa Ana circuit.

The job will not be finished until the latter part of April, Morrow stated. The cable, which will be drawn into the conduit at a later date, will contain 26,000,000 feet of wire between Anaheim and Santa Ana. It will cost $96,000 in addition to the conduit expense.

A large increase in long distance telephone traffic between Los Angeles and Orange county cities was given as the reason for the extensive operations now going on along the highway.

Arrests for violation of the city parking ordinance reached the 72 mark for this week yesterday, when 10 more arrests were made in the business district.

Publicity and the fact that a score or more persons have been fined in police court this week for overtime parking have failed to stop the violations so far, but police officers are continuing to check cars. The drive against motorists who leave their cars on the street all night also is well under way, with nine reported arrested between 2 and 5 a. m. today.

Eleven persons were fined in police court yesterday on overtime parking charge. They were Jesse Gubi, R. P. Preston, O. R. E. Waters, R. L. Shipley, A. J. Marks, Mrs. A. H. Allen, August Larsen, A. Atchley, G. E. Crocker, A. F. Turner and A. C. Eklund.

'PERSONALITY' IS SUBJECT OF Lenten Talk

"A fresh appraisal of personality is the remedy for the maladjustments of life, both individual and social, which we have today," said Dr. Raymond C. Brooks, in his address in the First Congregational church last evening.

Last night was the second in a series of four Thursday night Lenten addresses which the head of the department of religion in Pomona college is giving in the Santa Ana church.

The subject of the address last night was "The Significance of Personality." In the discussion of the subject, Dr. Brooks said:

"Something has happened to our idea of personality; the idea of personality which we have held for over 1000 years. A number of the church fathers contributed to the forming of this idea of personality, but Augustine is the one to whom we are chiefly indebted. And now that conception which prevailed for over 1000 years is dissolving.

"Let us look for a moment at this idea of personality. It is very simple and, so long as one could hold it, very satisfactory. This view of personality included the following: Man is created in the image of God, spiritually and physically. Man is the center of the universe. Very early in his career man disappointed God and death came into the world. In order to escape the punishment of death the scheme of salvation was provided."

The speaker then went on to show how astronomy, geology, biology and, finally, psychology have each, in turn, contributed to the undermining of this old idea of personality. But he showed how the new knowledge still leaves man and mind and personality as the greatest achievements in creation. He helped his hearers to a conception of personality that fits into the universe as we know it.

"Man is still the greatest thing in the universe," said Dr. Brooks, "and the greatest thing in man is mind. And the greatest thing in mind is goodness."

THEATER GROUP TO GIVE DINNER, PLAY

LAGUNA BEACH, March 8.—Designed primarily to raise funds for retaining their place of rehearsals for another month, members of the Little Art theater will give a dinner, play and dance at their hall on Coast boulevard Friday evening.

The organization expects to move into a building purchased by friends for its use, but the new structure will not be ready for several weeks. Meanwhile, preparations are being made for giving a theatrical performance in April at the Community club.

Mrs. Sumner Crosby is to be hostess for the Friday night entertainment.

HORSE SHOW TO BE STAGED BY BREAKFASTERS

That the El Rodeo Riding club will co-operate with the Santa Ana Breakfast club in sponsoring a great horse show here the latter part of May was decided at a meeting of the riding club, last night, in Fullerton.

The Santa Ana Breakfast club will celebrate its first anniversary on May 28 and the show to be given near that date will be held at the fair grounds. It is anticipated that many fine horses will be entered. The event will be one of the biggest of its kind ever to be staged in the county, according to G. J. Gilbert, president of the Breakfast club.

Howard Timmons, of Santa Ana; Jack Waltz and Leo Porter, constitute the committee of the riding club that will co-operate with a committee yet to be appointed by Gilbert.

The Santa Ana Breakfast club is one of the four Breakfast clubs in the state. There are only 84 such organizations in this nation and two in foreign countries.

PEN METHODS DEMONSTRATED AT INSTITUTE

The penmanship department of the Santa Ana city schools, under the direction of Olive M. Wherry, supervisor met recently in the Roosevelt kindergarten room.

As it was a regular institute number, it was attended by teachers from all parts of the county, over 150 being present.

Miss Wherry was ably assisted by Mrs. Juanita Fletcher, of Lowell school; Mrs. Emma Dietrich, of Artesia school, and Mrs. Iva Kellogg, of Roosevelt school.

Mrs. Fletcher gave a demonstration of the use of rhythm in the making of letters, words and figures, choosing for this 1B pupils who had been in school three weeks. These tiny children responded to her directions in an amazing manner.

Mrs. Dietrich used 2A pupils from the Artesia street Mexican school, showing how she correlated writing, spelling and language.

These demonstrations were followed by one conducted by Mrs. Kellogg, of Roosevelt school. She chose 6A pupils and conducted a model lesson, showing the correlation of writing, spelling, language and nature study.

Miss Wherry then gave a talk on the need and use of good handwriting and demonstrated the value of rhythm by the use of a phonograph.

WORTH $3,000,000 OR NOTHING

The painting at the right is worth $3,000,000—or it isn't worth anything. It's the original Leonardo Da Vinci masterpiece, "La Belle Ferroniere," says its owner, Mrs. Andree Hahn, lower left, of Kansas City, who is suing for libel Sir Joseph Duveen, famed art expert, above, who says it isn't. Sir Joseph's statement, published in a New York newspaper in 1920, that the painting is merely a copy, blocked its sale to the Kansas City Art museum.

DEFEATS YOUEL IN CLOSE RACE FOR HIGH HONOR

Jerry Tannebaum, commissioner of forensics, debater and president of the Honor society, was chosen yesterday by his classmates for the coveted position of senior class president in the Santa Ana high school.

Curtis Youel, captain of the baseball and basketball teams, ran Tannebaum a close race, the count being 81 to 65. Tannebaum is well known in the school and is prominent in many activities. The presidency of the graduating class is one of the most responsible positions in the school, as there is much to be accomplished in the last semester. John Keeler, present student body president, is the retiring class head.

Will Erbe and Enid Bowles ran a close race for the vice presidency. Erbe won, 83 to 70. Erbe plays guard on the Poly championship "Bee" basketball team. For secretary, the upperclassmen chose Phyllis O'Connor, present secretary of the student body. Miss O'Connor had a large majority over her opponent, Betty Maloney, the count being 112 to 38.

Russell Sullivan was the only candidate for Generator reporter. Sullivan is sports editor of the Generator, "Bee" basketball player and baseball letterman. Dave Hill was re-elected to the position of yell leader for the ensuing semester.

The outgoing officers of the class are John Keeler, president; Kenneth Manderscheid, vice president; Gladys Early, secretary, and John Dunlap, publicity.

Happy Birthday Event Planned As Reunion Of Old Friends

Birthday festivities and joys began very early indeed yesterday morning for Mrs. Emma M. Keller in her home at 921 North Lowell street, for friends and neighbors, aware of the day's significance, began leaving their cheery tributes of flowers and messages with the first sunny hours of the morning.

Miss Naomi Keller of the home, and Mrs. Arthur Strommerson of Laguna Beach, had made special plans for the observance of their mother's natal day, the plans embracing a reunion with old friends from Viborg, South Dakota, who are now living or spending the winter months in the Southland.

Every decorative detail of the home spelled "Welcome" to these old friends, who noted that in the wealth of flowers arranged throughout the rooms, the lovely tones of mauve, lavender and amethyst predominated, for royal purple from its deepest shade to its most delicate tint, is the favorite color of Mrs. Keller, harmonizing beautifully with her cloud of snowy hair, her true "schoon-girl" complexion, and the mirthful light in her eyes.

Among the most appreciated of the lovely flowers, were those from the two sons of the honoree, Clyde and Mark Keller, both living in Viborg, and unable to be here for the birthday event, but represented by their flowers and messages.

At the tea hour, Mrs. Strommerson and Miss Keller served the delectable of ribbon sandwiches with crisp potato chips and other delicacies, followed by birthday cake and ice cream. Mrs. Keller is famous for her angel food and always bakes her own birthday cake. But it remained for Mrs. Minnie Ketner and her son, Lawson Shepard, to complete that for yesterday, for friendship dictated that they arrange it in tiers and decorate it in lavender and white icing, in a beautiful floral design. They saw to the ice cream being moulded in lavender and white tarts also.

When the pleasant afternoon finally drew to a close, the guests all announced their anticipations for a similar birthday celebration in 1930, and their hostess, her eyes sparkling with fun, responded "Yes I have had such a good time, that I think I'll be here myself."

In this group of old South Dakota friends, were the honoree, Mrs. Keller, her daughters, Mrs. Strommerson and Miss Keller, and her son-in-law, Arthur Strommerson of Laguna Beach; Mrs. Nancy Allen, Mrs. E. P. Allen, Mrs. R. B. Morris, Mr. and Mrs. J. Christensen, Mr. and Mrs. Will Hendrickson, Harold Larson, Mr. and Mrs. Victor Olson, Mrs. Frank Olson, Mrs. M. Stremman, Mrs. Christine Hanson and son, Dewey Hanson, of Los Angeles; Mr. and Mrs. Anton Jorgensen and son Leonard of South Gate; Mrs. Olivia Johnson of Hollywood and Mrs. Clarence Ashworth of Lynwood.

Irish Drama Is Subject For Meeting of Players

The importance of Irish drama was stressed last night in an interesting address made by Thomas H. Glenn of the Santa Ana Junior college at a meeting of the Community Players held at The Barn. He told of the methods taken by Irish authors and dramatists to keep the spirit of Old Ireland always before the people.

Among the dramatists whose work he reviewed briefly were Yeats, Synge, Lady Gregory, and Shaw O'Casey. He told of the Abbey theater in Dublin where real Irish drama is presented.

His talk was followed with the presentation of "The Travelling Man" by Lady Gregory and the parts were taken by A. D. Hoerns, as king of the world, Estelle Card Beaman, as the mother, and Doris Rime, as the child. The play had been directed by Mrs. Beaman.

During the social hour that followed, Mona Summers Smith and Mrs. M. B. Wellington served refreshments.

Members were reminded that tryouts for the next play, "Officer 666" will be held tonight and tomorrow night, 7:30 o'clock, at the Yost Spurgeon theater.

A. D. Club Members Are Entertained

Members of the A. D. club were delighted to entertain recently with a lovely spring-time party at the home of Mrs. Bess E. Mathis, of 615 South Main street. Bridge was enjoyed during the afternoon and members found their places at the card tables with the pretty St. Patrick's day talls.

Mrs. D. W. Campbell held high score and Mrs. George Seba of Orange was low, each receiving pretty gifts.

Those present included the hostess, Mrs. Mathis, Mrs. D. W. Campbell, Mrs. W. B. Davis, Mrs. P. G. Lyman, Mrs. Noble McBride of Long Beach, Mrs. Louis Rohman of Los Angeles, Mrs. George Harris of Bellflower, Miss Eloise Ray, Miss Gladys Young, and Mrs. George Seba of Orange.

John Stephen McGroarty May Attend J. C. Fiesta

That an attempt will be made to secure John Stephen McGroarty, as speaker for the annual Fiesta of the Santa Ana Junior college which is to be held on May 17, was indicated today by William Roach, chairman of the Fiesta Committee. McGroarty is noted for his knowledge of the early Spanish history of California, and he is the author of the San Gabriel Mission play.

Recent developments in plans for the Fiesta include the appointment of Helen Richards as chairman of the decoration committee. At a meeting of the committee chairman Tuesday night, budget planning was taken up with a deadline resulting over the matter of the morning program.

A tentative program for the day includes a morning program on the lawn of the campus featuring the crowning of the don and queen of the Fiesta and an address by the principal speaker. Following a lunch served by the Associated Women students of the college from 12:30 to 1:30 o'clock, an informal dance is to be held in the gym. Later in the afternoon the seniors from the high schools of Orange, Santa Ana, Tustin, Garden Grove, and San Juan Capistrano will be entertained with an assembly and tour of the campus. After the supper which is to be served from 5 to 6 o'clock, an informal dance, honoring the high school seniors will be held in the gym until the hour of presentation of the annual Shakespearean play, Macbeth, in the high school auditorium.

Helped at Change of Life

"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a wonderful medicine at the Change of Life. I would get blue spells and just walk the floor. I was nervous, could not sleep at night, and was not able to do my work. I know if it had not been for your medicine I would have been in bed most of this time and had a big doctor's bill. If women would only take your medicine they would be better."—Mrs. Anna Weaver, R. F. D. No. 2, Rose Hill, Iowa.

"Magic" Is Subject Of Interesting Program

Throughout the ages one of man's chief interests has been magic and in every country in the world men have devoted their lives to its study. For this reason yesterday afternoon's program on "Magic" at the meeting of the Pegasus club proved unusually interesting. The meeting took place at the home of Mrs. G. W. Bond of 507 East Myrtle street.

Mrs. Fannie Lass's clever paper on "Magic" dealt with its history, telling of its growth in primitive ages and of its rise and fall in the Occident. Her paper included a description of the methods used in Oriental lands by fakirs, or magicians.

Mrs. Walter Foote devoted a brief essay to the radio as, she explained, it was of the unseen and therefore savored of magic. She was followed by Mrs. R. R. Caldwell who gave a piano solo, "Magic Doll."

Telling of an interesting phase in early American witchcraft, Mrs. Clarence Bond, discussed some of the terrible tortures heaped upon innocent victims of the unhealthy beliefs of certain early Americans.

Mrs. Earl Morris's paper on "Magic Powers of Suggestion" was a clever dissertation upon psychology.

Mrs. Ray Brown's lovely song, "Blossom Time," was followed by the reading of two original poems, "The Dawn" and "Desert Magic," by Mrs. G. W. Bond.

Miss Marjorie Lust read an original story, "When Nellie Left Out the Golden Rule," and Mrs. Caleb Jackson sang "The Modern Magician" and "Mammy's Song."

Mrs. A. C. Zaiser's contribution to the program was a talk on modern books devoted to the study of magic and a clever reading.

Mrs. Harry Bowman sang "Ho, The Piper" and Mrs. Charles Brisco sang "The Sleep that Flits on Babel's Eyes" and "The Wind Song."

Mrs. Harry Hanley gave "A Little Bit of Happiness" and Mrs. Frank was talked on "The Magic Powers of Houdini."

Guests at the meeting included Mrs. Beaman, Mrs. Walter Foote, Mrs. Caleb Jackson, Mrs. Justus Birtcher, and Fred Teel.

Mrs. Charles Stearns delighted the guests with an Irish recitation. Mrs. Nalle sang a group of Irish melodies.

The hostesses, Mrs. Lockett, Mrs. Lucille Hill, Mrs. Bertha Palmer, Mrs. McGee, and Miss Grace Roberts, served delicious refreshments.

Pupils Are Presented In Lovely Recital

Parents and friends who gathered at the studio of Miss Thelma B. Glascock at 316 West Third street last night, were entertained by a program of varied music when Miss Glascock presented a group of her piano students in a recital.

The studio with its soft lights and beautiful flowers made a lovely setting for the youthful musicians. The Rhythm band, comprised of piano pupils of Miss Glascock played two selections, "The Donkey Trail" by Leunance and "Spanish Dance" by Hartmann, under the leadership of Roy Butler Jr. Master Gerald Robb gave two vocal solos "The Train" by Malone and "Mother's Lullaby" by Barbour. He was accompanied by Miss Helen Holmes Robb.

Duets were played by Mary Perkins and Helen Holmes Robb.

Students playing piano solos were Norman Heine, Lucille Crawford, Joy Donham, Zephra Matthews, Marjorie Matthews, Mary Perkins, Gerald Robb, Helen Holmes Robb, Verna Marie Osborn, Richard Wright, Frances Crowther, Elizabeth Biddle, Olive Schweitzer, Janice Johnson, Nadene Johnson, Dora Perkins and Helen Holmes Robb.

Your Garden

BY ROMAINE B. WARE
For NEA Service

Pruning to most gardeners brings thoughts of the fruit trees that must be cut back each year to get the best results, but spring pruning in the back yard garden is just as important. One of the greatest sources of the decline in rose bushes is in the fact that few gardeners understand pruning them. They must be pruned regularly if they are to do their best.

The pruning of shrubs in the yard is done for but two purposes: to keep the bush within bounds and to remove deadwood or branches that interfere. This pruning should be done as soon as possible after the shrub is through flowering. Shrubs that do not flower may be pruned at most any season, though spring or fall is generally the time to do it. In pruning make clean cuts, leaving no stubs. Shrubs that flower in the spring should be pruned as soon as their blossoms fade. If you prune them in the fall or early spring you will remove the branches that will give them bloom.

Pruning roses is a study in itself and if you want to grow really fine roses it will pay to study the subject well. The hybrid teas, our most common class of bedding roses, need to be pruned severely each spring. Most of them should be cut back to within six or eight inches of the ground. All weak branches should be removed entirely and the stronger ones cut back to not more than three buds. The more severely you prune the bushes in the spring the better quality of flowers you may expect. Light pruning means more flowers of a poorer quality. Cut out all branches that grow toward the center of the plant so that the air and sunlight may reach all parts of the bush.

Climbing roses should be pruned only just after flowering, when the wood of the current year should be removed. At that time the climbing rose is putting out great quantities of new wood from the base of the plant which is the blooming wood for the next spring. None of this new wood should be cut off at any time, for to do so is to cut off the blooms.

Pruning to keep shrubs within bounds may be done at most any time. The good gardener is at it continually. When done gradually, the effect is not noticed, but the gardener who makes removals spoils the "picture effect" of the shrubs.

NOW consider this important question. Do you desire merely a home near the ocean, where you and the public at large must use a public beach, as best you may, or do you wish to own and control your own sand beach, you and your neighbors, where for all time to come you may enjoy the privileges and privacy that goes with ownership?

The MIXING BOWL by ANN MEREDITH

Teaching the Girl (and Boy) How To Cook

If there is a small girl in the family, let her help with the cooking and the marketing.

Take time occasionally to let her work with you while you are baking a cake. Read each ingredient aloud and let her measure out the exact amounts and have them arranged close to your hand. She can very nicely sift and measure flour, add baking powder and re-sift it, and in this operation you have opportunity to teach her deftness and neatness in handling materials.

The next step is to allow her to assemble and mix some very simple cake, following this comes oven temperatures and the care that must be taken not to disturb anything while the baking powder is working.

Take her to market occasionally; train her to know fresh fruits and vegetables from those less fresh. Don't overlook the small boy of the family... sometimes boys also like to cook and in training them you are putting stars in the crown you must someday wear as a mother-in-law.

TODAY'S RECIPE

Corn Flake Drops

1 cup shredded coconut
1 cup chopped nuts
2 cups white sugar
3 cups corn flakes
4 egg whites, beaten stiff
1/4 teaspoon salt

First of all let's get the nuts ready. Walnuts, pecans or almonds, shredded fine with a sharp knife. I know it is more convenient to run them through the food chopper, but this gives the cakes a greasy, messy appearance after baking.

The sugar is the next consideration. Unless you have the very finest berry sugar, use powdered sugar. This is a meringue mixture depending on its fine texture for elevation; coarse sugar destroys this.

Add the salt to the egg whites and beat them to the fluffy stage, then begin adding the sugar, a small amount each time. When the meringue is ready fold in the corn flakes, nuts and coconut all mixed together.

Drop by spoonful on a buttered baking sheet and bake in a slow oven for 20 to 30 minutes. This temperature is 275 F. for stoves with oven-control.

Divide the calorie total of 1560 by the number of cakes made from the recipe to get the individual

Scene from "The Shakedown" A UNIVERSAL SPECIAL

YOST BROADWAY

Film and stage together combine to offer a highly entertaining bill at Yost's Broadway theater, where "The Shakedown," a Universal picture on the screen, and lovely Barbara Bedford in the Broadway Revue on the stage, are featured attractions.

Of course there are other entertainment members such as news and comedy reels, and a melange of diverting vaudeville including Wilbur and Lyke in "Fun on a Trampoline," (and we are going to allow you to guess what a trampoline is, so that your curiosity will be satisfied only when you see the show the Ridgway Brothers, quite clever horizontal artists, and the Sailor Comedy Four—"Gobs" of harmony and also gobs of fun.

James Murray and Barbara Kent are featured in "The Shakedown," which is an exceedingly interesting and dramatic story of prize rings, oil fields, crooked fight promoters, and similar thrilling features.

Returning to Miss Bedford, who has won an enviable reputation as a screen star, she bids fair to equal that reputation as an artist of the stage, for her "Musical Moments" is a charming act in which she proves to have a very clear and sweet singing voice.

The bill will be repeated tomorrow at the matinee and evening performance, and will give place Sunday to one of the big pictures of the spring, Richard Barthelmess in "Weary River," a sound picture.

WEST COAST-WALKER

Sound effects and music, perfectly synchronized with the action of the picture by Paramount's new processes, enhance the natural beauty and majesty of Richard Dix's latest starring picture, "Redskin." The picture, more than two-thirds filmed in natural color, will show at the Walker theater for two days, starting today.

Richard Dix in "Redskin" A Paramount Picture

A special theme song, "Redskin," which has already won approval from radio and dance orchestra audiences, is introduced in the picture and a chorus of men and women chants the original Indian songs, including the well-known wedding chant of the Navajos.

During the ceremonial dances in several sequences of the picture, the beat of the tom-toms and the low singing of the Indian braves and squaws add to the realism.

"Redskin" is one of the most complete and beautiful historical moving pictures that have ever been made. The scenes were made in the Indian country in Arizona and New Mexico and hundreds of Indians appear in important roles.

WEST END

Among those who see Cecil B. De Mille's "King of Kings" now at the West End theater, H. B. Warner's remarkable impersonation of the Christ is bound to be widely discussed. Comparison inevitably will be made with the actor of Christus at the famous decennial spectacle of Oberammergau in Germany, and the work of Mr. Warner will not suffer thereby.

One of the most distinguished actors of the English-speaking stage, H. B. Warner was born in England, came to this country as a leading man and for two decades starred in the "flesh-and-blood" drama. Now in middle years, he is lean, powerful, boy-like in his vigor, of his impersonation of the King of Kings, Dr. Frank Crane recently said: "I cannot help but think that the millions who see this picture will come away with a truer and warmer idea of the Christ than they ever had before. The smile of Mr. Warner's Christ is revealing. It showed a tender tolerance for human frailty, it showed a knowledge of cosmic law. It showed a restraint of power and a bystanding quality of great wisdom."

The cause of overweight

Not due to any one food alone

THERE has been so much discussion in this country about the cause of being overweight that we decided to go to one of the leading scientific authorities on diet. We requested him to state the facts for the benefit of the public.

"It is the fashion to blame sweets for everything," he said. "Overweight is not due to sweets alone."

"If the dietary habits of overweight individuals are scrutinized," he went on to say, "it will be found that sugar is the foodstuff gorged by some, starches by others, fats and oils by others, and meats by others."

"Strictly speaking," he said, "the average increase in overweight cannot be attributed to increase in intake of sugar or any other single foodstuff."

Note that he speaks of gorging. How intelligent it would be if everyone in the United States would refrain from gorging any one kind of food, and ate in moderation a great variety of all kinds of healthful foods.

It is clearly up to the women in the home to see that all adults and all children are furnished a variety of appetizing foods and to remember that sugar is the mainstay for making healthful foods delicious and appetizing.

One excellent way to prevent gorging is to feed your family a varied and well-balanced diet. Sugar develops the incomparable flavors of cereals, vegetables, fruits and many meats. It makes vegetables taste fresher and improves their color. Nothing can take the place of intelligent cookery. The best cooks are generous with sugar. The Sugar Institute.

"I always insist that the soda crackers be crisp and fresh... no single item is more important"

"I serve soda crackers with so many courses of the dinner that I consider their crispness and freshness absolutely essential," a clever hostess says. "With the cocktail, with the soup, with the salad, with the demitasse... they have dozens of uses..."

"That, of course, is why I always insist on Snow Flakes. Snow Flakes are always oven-crisp—flaky, light and delicious! Packed warm from the ovens, they are wax-wrapped and sold under a definite 'Guarantee of Freshness.'" PACIFIC COAST BISCUIT COMPANY, Los Angeles, San Francisco, Portland, Seattle, Tacoma, Spokane.

Hello, Coffee Pot... meet Folger-Flavor

"I haven't been treating you squarely, I'll confess. You are a nice decoration. In fact, I believe you were selected because of your good looks.

"But not until I poured from you a cup of golden Folger's did I realize how really precious you are.

"It was the Folger Coffee test that made us such good friends, wasn't it? Up to then, you were doing your best, but I didn't realize the difference."

Here is the Folger Coffee Test
A "try it" challenge to coffee-lovers

Buy a can of Folger's Coffee today. Drink Folger's tomorrow morning; the next morning drink the coffee you have been using; the third morning drink Folger's again. You will then decidedly favor one brand or the other. The Best Coffee wins. That's fair, isn't it?

Mary Dowd Reardon's GOOD COFFEE RECIPE
(For those who use a percolator)
Measure water into a clean coffee pot and bring to boil.
Measure into percolator basket a rounded tablespoon of Folger's Coffee for every cup of water.
When water is boiling furiously put basket in. Seven minutes is right time to "percolate" for average strength.
P.S.—Be sure to keep coffee pot sweet and clean—that is all-important.

BEWARE OF DIETS WITHOUT BULK

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN Will Protect You

People are more careful than ever before about diet. They diet to clear complexions. They avoid certain foods to stay thin. They eat others to get fat. But many are running a serious danger because they are missing the "roughage" or "bulk" foods that every person must have to keep well.

As a result, constipation gets in its deadly work. Headaches, listlessness, circled eyes are only the first symptoms. In the end, constipation ruins health, wrecks beauty and may cause serious disease.

Don't neglect your daily roughage. That is nature's rule. Kellogg's ALL-BRAN will supply it. A healthful cereal to eat each day. To use in cooked dishes or to serve with milk or cream. To mix with other cereals.

ALL-BRAN is guaranteed to relieve constipation—to prevent it. Two tablespoonfuls daily—chronic cases, with every meal. It is 100% bran. Doctors recommend it. Your grocer sells it. Served by hotels, restaurants, dining cars. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

EVENING SALUTATION

Men of the noblest dispositions think themselves happiest when others share their happiness with them.

—Duncan.

WITHOUT A CAUSE

Governor Rodriguez of Lower California, says in regard to the revolutionary situation, "Revolutionary forces are on the run and the traitors soon will be exterminated."

Exterminated is the proper word to use in connection with what will happen to these leaders of the rebellion in Mexico. It is a distinctly unhealthy business and finally will be known to be so unhealthy few will engage in it. But the stakes are large. If success is had the leader becomes the ruler, and it appears that the chance is worth while.

Incidentally one must express appreciation of former President Calles' remarkable prophecy in his interview yesterday as he predicted that within 48 hours Vera Cruz would again be under federal control. It happened within 15 hours of the time he made the statement. His comment on the rebellion is in part worth re-publication. He said:

"We have before us a movement started by ambitious and corrupt military leaders who, without the remotest idea of revolutionary sociology and economics, and without the least objective of benefitting the masses, have rebelled against a civil ruler whose last three months of administration have portrayed him as an executive strictly obedient to the law, a man of immaculate public and private morals now and in the past."

Colonel Lindbergh chose a quiet, home-loving girl as his life's companion. An aviator, but evidently he doesn't care for the flighty kind.

YOSEMITE ENLARGED

A move in the right direction has been made by the United States government in purchasing 9000 acres adjacent Yosemite Park as an addition to the Park domain.

This new area contains some of the finest sugar pine and redwood trees in the state of California, and it is with the purpose of preserving this timber that this step is taken. The land involved in this purchase will be taken from the Stanislaus National forest, and the proposed road between Yosemite Valley and the Hetch Hetchy region will traverse this territory.

This interest of Congress representing all the people should be an additional spur to the people of California in preserving the natural scenic beauty of this wonderful state. If the present bond issue of $6,000,000 is not sufficient we should double it. The stately pine and the majestic redwood, once destroyed, never will be seen again. The fame of the Yosemite is world wide and the people of all nations, including our own, flock to California, partly because of the natural beauty and grandeur of the valley and mountains.

In increasing the area of the park, Congress has enhanced its value to California, and preserved for the nation more of the beautiful setting which is our common heritage.

Now that a German scientist has invented paper that won't burn you can write to the fellow who borrowed twenty for a "couple of weeks" last May.

AT LAST

Finally the public is to have some protection in buying goods made by the Indians. Tourists and others have been imposed upon unmercifully in buying goods, supposedly made by the handicraft of the Indian, only later to discover they were turned out by the state which made and sold wooden nutmegs, moccasins made in New Jersey, and Navajo blankets from the factories of Philadelphia. They have been sold to the unsuspecting as hand-made goods from the tepees of the patient red man.

The secretary of the interior has approved a design for an Indian trade mark to be used on all Indian made goods as a guarantee that they are genuine. The design contains the head of an Indian wearing a feather bedecked war bonnet and the words "Indian craftsmanship, Bureau of Indian Affairs, United States Department of Indian Affairs."

We have taken his lands and have robbed him of his good-will in his craftsmanship, but the latter is to stop. This trade-mark will protect and allow him the rewards of his hand labor and at the same time assure the buyer that the goods in reality are made by the Indians themselves.

Edison says he never has known anyone who was really happy. Is it possible he hasn't been reading the cigaret ads?

WOMEN IN STATE DEPARTMENT

New evidence of the emancipation of women is found in the fact that two women, Margaret Ward of Lincoln, Mass., and Nellie B. Stogsdall, of South Bend, Ind., have passed the examination and been admitted to the foreign service.

Occupations to which women have not been admitted are growing fewer every day, and in all occupations they are making good. This fact might be a partial explanation of the growth in the number of divorces, and in the slight downward trend of the marriage rate. When women no longer need to marry in order to provide themselves with a meal ticket, there will be fewer unhappy and unsuccessful marriages.

Is there any good reason why the department of state should not use the excellent qualities of women for posts both abroad and in Washington?

AFTER THE BATTLE

Well, we presume Mr. Stewart today definitely understands that when anyone enters into an agreement with Mr. Rockefeller, that he will resign under certain conditions, and when Mr. Rockefeller wants him to keep his promise the promise must be kept.

There is nothing like having assistance to keep one's promise.

WOMEN WOULD ELIMINATE RASKOB

John J. Raskob, chairman of the Democratic National committee, must give up his chairmanship if he would follow the suggestion, yes, demand, of the Woman's Democratic Law Enforcement League. They declare it to be "for the good of the Democratic party."

There is no gratitude among these women. They declare the big debt on the party was incurred by Mr. Raskob, not in behalf of the Democratic party, but in behalf of Tammany Hall, using the Democratic party as a guise. They say, "Pay off the debt and get out." One of these orders is hard to obey, and yet we presume even these good women would rather object to his getting out until he had paid off the debt. The money obligation goes with responsibility, although we wonder if Mr. Raskob would consider the job worth all it costs.

A subcommittee of the National Crime Commission has recommended abolition of county jails. It does seem they might be better used in some counties.

DEBT AND EXTRAVAGANCE

Willard B. Pillsbury, banker, announces that four-fifths of all wage earners are in debt. Only about a quarter of the country's population, he says, are free from financial worries.

This sounds rather appalling. But there are debts and debts. The man who owes for a home, an automobile, a piano, or furniture, may be in the soundest kind of financial condition. Extravagance is one thing, and going into debts that can be met promptly and without strain is another.

There are times when the wisest thing a man can do is go into debt. It is only when debts are incurred unwisely, or when misfortune brings a flock of bills greater than income can meet, that there is trouble.

College Degrees and Success

Christian Science Monitor

A lively debate in a London daily paper on the question whether a university degree is a help or a handicap to business women has just resulted in a draw. The arguments adduced on each side were as applicable to men as to women, and the conclusion reached would probably have been the same if the question had concerned both sexes equally. The strongest argument brought forward against the utility of a degree was undoubtedly the remark of one competitor that the knowledge acquired in a university course is academic and out of relation to the modern business world. At a typical English university one learns many curious things which are in themselves of no commercial value whatever; but subjects like bookkeeping, which is of considerable commercial value, one does not learn at all.

This is a criticism which would probably find an echo in the hearts of the majority of the people; but there are some who think that it is founded upon a misconception of a university education, even when that education is regarded only as a business proposition. Looked at from this point of view, a university is too often held to be a place that should teach its students a set of magic formulae which lead to business success; that is, it is regarded as a place for the dissemination of useful knowledge. But in this connection a university is not a place for the dissemination of knowledge of any kind, whether useful or otherwise. It aims rather at developing a capacity to acquire knowledge, so that its students, if they have profited from their training, will be able, as occasion demands, to equip themselves with the essential qualifications dictated by the necessities of whatever position they may find themselves in, with a certainty and swiftness impossible to one without systematic training.

A course in bookkeeping at a business college qualifies the student to attain a certain measure of success in one particular line of business activity; but a study of, for example, Greek and Roman letters, which on a narrow view is commercially so useless, is calculated to develop a habit of thought that can tackle with confidence not only one but any variety of business problem.

That this is becoming increasingly recognized by business men themselves is shown by the success of such institutions as the Cambridge University appointments board. Nevertheless in this very success there lies a subtle danger, the suggestion that one of the primary duties of a university is to fit its members for the business world. The earning of money, economic success, the gaining of a social position; these are not the things that a university exists to guarantee. It is concerned only with the higher aspects of daily experience, and with the preservation of learning and civilization. If these things were found to be incompatible with commercial utility, a true university would nevertheless still be concerned with them; but for the welfare of the business world itself it is fortunate that they are not.

California Might Have Own Antique Factories

San Francisco Chronicle

Reading in certain Eastern magazines about the antique industry makes one wonder why our California promoters have not done more to develop the business here. We understand that there are factories in New England working overtime producing genuine Mayflower pottery and warming pans. Every antique expert knows that Pennsylvania artisans can make wormholes indistinguishable from the natural borings and giving the stamp of genuineness to Duncan Phyfe drop-leaf tables or other Colonial wares.

What is the matter with California? With our rich and picturesque history we ought to have humming factories turning out bedsteads that arrived with Coronado and pewter ale mugs left at Point Reyes by Sir Francis Drake. Why let smart Yankees or artful descendants of Penn reap all the profits when we could have a thriving industry of our own?

A Canadian Lincoln Highway

New York Times

A coast-to-coast national highway through the Dominion of Canada has been proposed in the Parliament at Ottawa. One of the arguments for it was that it would promote a better understanding between the East and the "isolated" West.

The Western Provinces cannot really be said to be cut off from the East, for they are well served by railroads. But a motorist who planned to drive his car from Quebec to Vancouver direct would have a difficult country to deal with in Manitoba, Saskatchewan, Alberta and British Columbia. West of Winnipeg there would be many empty spaces, beside the Rockies and the Selkirk, to traverse.

A national Canadian highway is still a dream. The Federal Government is cold to it. In the debate at Ottawa Finance Minister Ross declared that the Provinces were better able to "carry the burden." If such a gigantic improvement is to be left to the Provinces it will be a long time coming.

More Truth Than Poetry

THE OUTSIDER

I do not need to pale with fright
As do a lot of men
When they are told that overnight
The market's crashed again.
I never tremble as I view
The yearly trend of sales
And find out what has happened to Industrials and rails.

While ham and eggs at breakfast time
My appetite assuage
I read the latest news of crime
And on the sporting page,
And very rarely do I turn
To the financial sheet
For I am not concerned to learn
The tidings of the Street.

What matter if stocks rise or fall?
I calmly go my way
Well knowing that my little all
Is so-and-so per day—
Enough my food and clothes to buy
And pay my rent the while
But not so much that I dare try
To make a sudden pile.

Let rates of interest fluctuate
And worry bull or bear,
Let lambs or magpies pay the freight—
I shall not know nor care.
I have no interest in finance
Or what is asked or bid—
I never dare to take a chance—
But Gosh—I wish I did!

Dr. Frank Crane's Friendly Talk

By Dr. Frank Crane

WALLS

Victor Hugo somewhere says that there is nothing in the world so interesting as something that takes place behind a wall over which we cannot see.

That is one of the things that make a big city interesting. If you live in the country you know just about how every one around you lives. There may be a big red brick house in the suburbs where the village rich man lives, with a certain amount of mystery clinging to it, but in the main everyone lives the same sort of life you lead.

They all make their living doing tasks similar to yours. There are no mysterious classes of people present to whom romance clings.

But in a large city there are a thousand and one activities going on "behind the scenes," something which fills your imagination, but something you cannot describe. It is this appeal to the imagination that fascinates the average person.

It is mystery and curiosity that constantly make for the growth of cities and the depopulation of the country.

You soon get tired of a place where you know all about the people in it. So there is a country-wide interest in whatever takes place in New York.

The root cause of all this is that New York is a city of infinite walls. Everywhere little groups of people are doing interesting things of which you cannot know.

Every night thousands are entertained at the theaters, but how many know what is going on behind the scenes? A story or play of life behind the scenes is always interesting.

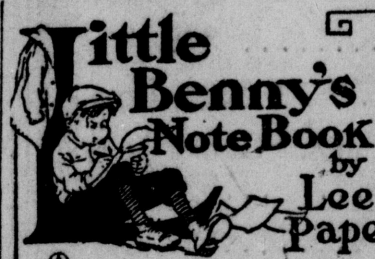

The daily papers influence millions and they seem to lay the private lives of everybody bare, but only a handful produce them and know how the wheels go round.

High society owes its attractions to the fact that it is exclusive. It contains only a small group of people and the rest of the populace are outside of the wall fascinated by tales of what is going on inside.

The mainspring of human interest will always be curiosity with a pressure of the unknown, and it is in a big city that the unknown is constantly forced upon us.

One reason why life after death is so intriguing is that it goes on behind a closed wall. No one has ever looked over it, and no one knows what is going on behind the barrier.

Thoughts On Modern Life

By Glenn Frank

A JURIST EXTRAORDINARY

Mr. Justice Holmes, of the United States supreme court, bearing the name and native genius of his physician-poet father, Oliver Wendell Holmes, is eighty-eight years old today.

In his twenty-seven years on this renowned bench, this jurist extraordinary has lived and loved both the science and art of jurisprudence.

A man of vast learning and vivacious lightness of touch, of culture, charm, and conscience compounded, Mr. Justice Holmes has given the world the tonic example of a singularly untrammelled intelligence immune to the corrosions of power.

He has consistently contended that the law must progressively express a nation's life before it can effectively and justly govern a nation's life.

To him, the law has never been a theoretical system imposed upon society, but a form of social and economic expression that must change as the social and economic processes of the nation's life change.

He has ever been disinclined to put precedent above progress.

It has always hurt him to see the law torn away from the living social tissues of which it is a part.

I hope Mr. Justice Holmes realizes today that the whole wide world of intelligence recognizes its debt to him for his having demonstrated two things, viz:

First, that deep learning and dynamic liberalism are not incompatible.

The man of culture is not always a man of convictions. The ignorant man, seeing but a fragment of his problem, finds it easy to be fantastic in his opinions. The learned man, seeing the complexity and innumerable qualifications of his problem, finds it easy to be neutral in the social conflicts of his time. But in Mr. Justice Holmes a deep learning and a dynamic liberalism have met and merged.

Second, that sound scholarship and a spirited style are not enemies.

The major part of the output of modern scholarship is written in an incredibly bad and blowsy style. In fact, the scholar who states his results in simple and stimulating fashion is likely to find his scholarship suspect among his colleagues. Scholarly accuracy that is inarticulate stands a better chance of canonization by the scholarly world. But Mr. Justice Holmes has worn his learning like a flower. He has not wheeled it about like a barrow of books.

OUR CHILDREN

By ANGELO PATRI

THE OLD DUB.

Jim is sixteen and attends high school. Everybody likes him except his teacher in the English department. She thinks he's an ill-tempered, lazy, rather dull boy.

She puts a red "P" on his card regularly and each time she does it he calls her an old dub. The principal says, "Jim, YOU HAVE to do better in English. What is the matter with you?" "I can't seem to get a good mark in it, sir," says Jim, sweetly. "Now, in your subject I get 'A.' English seems to be different."

"Well, well, try harder next month. Miss Knight says you do not make an effort. Your home work now. Is it as well prepared as you can make it?" "We have so much home work in English," says Jim, on the defensive, "reading and taking notes and writing compositions—"

Father looks at the card and scowls: "Why don't you do your English? What's the idea. Is it a foreign language to you? Now you make it your business to improve that mark this month or you needn't look to me for that tennis racket. Your teacher must be disgusted with you."

"Aw, that old dub. She never gives anybody a good mark." "She must make some exceptions," puts in Uncle Mac, grimly. "Don't Hillies get A's?"

"Yeh, Don Hillies. Big stiff. He smiles at her and stays after class to ask her about what Shakespeare meant when he said it rained. Yeh, I know all about that. The old dub."

"Be ashamed of yourself Jim Peters. You take your English books and learn your lesson or I'll know the reason why. You have just as much brains as Don Hillies. And Miss Knight is a fine teacher no matter what you say."

You're a dub in English, that's where the dub is," and mother snaps her book shut and glares at her sulky son.

It is not very intelligent of a high school pupil, boy or girl, to call his teacher names when the marks are given out. The mark belongs to the work you have done. It is the other half of the equation. It has very little of the teacher in it. Most of it is you and if you don't like it you hold the remedy in your own hands.

First take yourself in hand and see that you enter school in a friendly mood, at peace with the world. Like yourself. Smile. March along to the tune of "A son of God goes forth to war, a kingly crowd to gain." Just that line will do. Tell yourself you are entered for a prize which is to be given to the most cheerful, loving, courteous, industrious pupil in the school and that you hold that prize that very minute—and every other minute of the day.

And you'll get the prize. It is the crown of successful living that comes to everyone of us who learn how to live with other folk, sharing the task and the fun and the results in the spirit of friendliness. Treat the teacher as a fairy queen, or a respected Chief, and you'll find things very different in the classroom. And the red ink marks will disappear from your cards. It takes two people to put them there, of course, but yours is the power.
